FEDERAL JURY GIVES HARBOLD ESTATE $62500

A federal jury at Harrisburg Thursday awarded the estate of Ervin Levi Harbold, 53, former York Springs R. 1 rural mail carrier, $62,500 damages in a suit brought as the result of the death of Mr. Harbold December 28, 1958, following an auto-truck accident, near Hampton.

The jury, after deliberating for more than two hours, directed that the Warehousing and Equipment Corporation of Norristown, owner of a truck which collided with Harbold's car in Reading Twp., December 18, 1958, should pay.

The accident occurred beside the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lemmon, Reading Twp. The driver of the truck, Edward H. Krug Jr., 33, Hanover, had contended that smoke from burning weeds on the Lemmon farm had obscured his vision, causing his truck to cross the center of the two-lane highway and strike the Harbold car. The jury said the Lemmons need pay no damages.

FACED TWO TRUCKS

During the trial, counsel for the Lemmons had denied there was smoke, and held that even if there had been smoke crossing the road the truck driver should have driven cautiously.

Mr. Harbold had served for 18 years as a member of the Latimer Twp. school board, was a Sunday School teacher and was a substitute rural mail carrier for eight years. His survivors included his parents; his wife, a school teacher, and 12 children.

Ask State To Make County Road Safer

At the request of residents and officials of Butler Twp., Assemblyman Francis Worley today wrote Secretary Park H. Martin of the state Highways Department, asking that "immediate action" be taken for the purposes of public safety on several road hazards in that township.

Particular attention was directed to the curves at the Martin Walter and Denton Huff properties on the Biglerville-Arendtsville Rd. and to that road's intersection with the Sandoe Rd. In the case of the intersection, the state is asked to cut banks back that presently block motorists' view of the point where the two roads meet.

ADVANTAGES OF MERGER IN SCHOOLS CITED

"There are no inherent disadvantages in a merged school district as compared with a joint school district," H. Edgar Riegler, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, told the Gettysburg High School Parent-Teacher Association in a talk Thursday evening at the school.

Promising that the voters of the Gettysburg Joint School District are going to "hear a great deal about the advantages of a merger" before election day, November 8, Riegler listed many advantages offered by a merger.

He said the merger would mean about $20,000 additional in state appropriation each year, which is the equal of about three mills in real estate tax. It would also mean a more efficient transportation system, simplification of paper work and administration and it would remove the present "cumbersome" method of doing business with a 37-member joint school board, he said.

WOULD CUT PAPER WORK

He said there would be a nine-member board instead of 37 school directors, if all districts vote in favor of the merger. He recalled an important matter that was before the joint board about two years ago that failed to pass because it was opposed by two of the 37 directors. In the joint board, motions not only must receive favorable votes of a majority of the joint board but must carry a majority of the votes in each of five-member boards.

"We would expect improvement in our school program and its administration by reason of the merger," the superintendent said. In the matter of reports to the state alone, Riegler said the number to be processed by his office would be cut from 134 to 35.

No change in attendance areas would result from formation of a merger, he said, and there would be any change in teacher tenure or state control, nor would there be any effect on township or borough municipal operation. The merger would affect only school matters.

BOARD OF NINE

The superintendent said that each district in the present joint school district would elect one director to the merger's board and two additional members would be elected at-large, making a nine-member board. Present directors would serve until their terms expire.

WOULD TEACH CULTURES OF EAST IN U. S.

Objecting to the teaching of western culture in American colleges "as though it were world culture," Dr. Kenneth W. Morgan, professor of religion at Colgate University, urged the teaching of Asian studies in the undergraduate colleges of our nation in a convocation address this morning at Gettysburg College in the Student Union building.

DR. MORGAN

Charging that "we have been provincial in our American colleges," Prof. Morgan, who is director of the Fund for the Study of the Great Religions of the World at Colgate, said: "Our education should place western culture in its proper perspective as only one of four major cultures—Western, Islamic, Indian and Chinese-Japanese."

He continued: "The provincialism and superiority of the past are being broken down by forces beyond our control. New means of communication and transportation are bringing us together; Asian leaders know us better than we know their cultures. Asia is in a ferment, shifting from colonialism, creating new nations, adopting western technical practices, changing its methods of education, experiencing social revolutions."

"It is not argued that this is an age of crisis. Every age thinks it is an age of crisis, but crisis is par for the course. It is, however, a time of rapid change and our liberal arts education must change, too. Our ignorance of these changes cannot be maintained. Of necessity we must understand the people of Asia and learn to work with them."

"How do we go about studying Asia? We follow the paths of our (Continued On Page 12)

U.N. Assembly Nears Critical Agenda Vote On Admission Of Red China; Bitter Fight

By RELMAN MORIN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly pushed toward a critical East-West showdown vote on Red China today amid rising Western concern over the position of new African nations who may hold the key to the outcome.

Heralding a bitter struggle to be waged on the floor tonight, Nationalist China denounced the Red Peiping regime as the world's "greatest menace to international peace and security" and predicted its downfall in violent revolution.

Nationalist Chinese Ambassador T. F. Tsiang leveled this charge in the general policy debate. Discussion of whether Red China's claim to membership should be taken up in full-dress debate resumed at an evening session and question of placing the matter on the assembly's agenda is approaching a weathervane vote.

ADAMS FIRE CHIEFS MEET IN CENTENNIAL

Fire prevention, Civil Defense and spheres of responsibility for fire companies were among matters before the Adams County Association of Fire Chiefs at its meeting Thursday evening at Centennial.

The burning of debris and particularly bonfires after dark were discussed by the chiefs and County Fire Marshal John Murren. Murren and the chiefs reminded the public generally of the state law against burning debris after dark.

They also reminded of the need for great caution in burning debris to prevent spread of the fire. The chiefs noted that they can "almost count on" being called to a large number of grass, woods and shed fires during spring and fall because "someone is careless in handling the burning of debris."

The possibility of establishing some boundaries within which fire companies would be responsible was discussed. At present fire companies go wherever they are summoned. The discussion indicated a belief that if some system of "zones" could be set up and the public made aware of it, some system might be worked out by which the closest fire company would be summoned in event of fire in the county. Often fire companies are called which are several miles further away from the fire than other companies.

No final conclusions were reached but the group agreed to continue consideration of the matter.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Public Opinion Institute of the youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda has just completed a poll of 1,399 persons on the question "How did your standard of life change in recent years?" Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported the results today.

Living standard up, 1,024.

No change, 277.

Living standard down, 98.

"These data prove," said Tass, "that the measures taken by the Communist party of the Soviet Union in recent years for raising people's welfare have benefited all sections and groups of the population."

A Leningrad carpenter wrote in his reply to Komsomolskaya Pravda "Why are pianos so expensive? This lowers the standard of life, doesn't it?"

"Five or 10 years ago," said the paper, "they did not consider a piano a prime necessity."

SEEK HOLDUP GANG IN AREA

State and local police Thursday participated in a so far unsuccessful attempt to capture three robbers who took $151 at gun point from the Hollywood Tavern on the Carlisle-Harrisburg Rd., near Camp Hill.

Three men walked into the tavern about 10 o'clock Thursday night, displayed guns, lined six customers along a wall and ordered bartender Robert O. Hall, 39, Harrisburg, to "throw the money on the bar." He opened the cash register and removed a sum from it and placed it on the bar. The amount was later determined as $151.

The three then left the structure and drove away in what was described as a 1956 light or white colored two-door Plymouth or Dodge sedan with out-of-state tags.

The car headed toward Carlisle and state and local police were notified to check on roads leading from Carlisle to here. Despite the road blocks thrown up quickly, reports from Carlisle to noon today indicated no word had been received of the trio.

One was described as believed to be of Italian descent, about five feet 10, aged 30 to 35, weighing 165 to 170, round shouldered with a dark stubby beard, gray suit and round neck sweater. Another was a white, male, five feet 10, 125 to 130 pounds, dark hair, wearing dark pants, light cream fingertip-length coat, aged 20 to 30. The third was five feet 10, about 58, with a dark jacket and dark-rimmed glasses.

Khrushchev Accomplished Nothing Analyst Says; Feel He's Overplayed Hand

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has been in the United States 19 days and what has he accomplished? Nothing of visible benefit to him. There is a broad feeling he has overplayed his hand.

His American performance will compel the experts in foreign affairs to reappraise him because now they must face this question: Is he as shrewd as he is credited with being?

There was nothing shrewd—so far as can be seen—about his conduct before the United Nations in New York.

GOO-GOO EYES

He made speeches, demands, and threats. He belittled the United States and the Western powers, made goo-goo eyes at the new neutral nations, and brazenly sought to paralyze the United Nations.

The result: He got nothing he asked or demanded.

Around the world, an Associated Press survey showed, his conduct here was considered boorish, hardly a persuasive spectacle.

President Eisenhower, except for one speech right after the U.N. session opened, stayed away from the meeting of the world organization although Khrushchev was trying to dominate it.

The President has been criticized for not taking a more vigorous personal part in repudiating Khrushchev and meeting with other world leaders who came to this country for the U.N. meeting.

But Khrushchev has slowed down. At least he has quieted down.

CREDITED WITH SHREWDNESS

Even before Khrushchev got rid of his predecessor as premier, Nikolai Bulganin, to become sta-

Riegle noted the saving in fees to district school secretaries, treasurers, attorneys and auditors and said that the merged district's credit would be better than it is as a jointure. He cited the good interest rate received by the Upper Adams merged district as an example.

Riegle noted the merged district would have one school tax rate, instead of seven as at present. The tax would be collected by one collector, effecting a saving.

PLAN PUBLIC MEETINGS

He also explained that in the event the merger does not win approval in all districts, those voting in favor of it will form a merged district while the others will continue as members of a joint school district.

Riegle said public meetings are being planned to explain the merger plan and every means will be used to inform voters before they go to the polls.

President James Feather presided at the meeting. Treasurer Edward Brownley reported a balance of $142 and "open house" was announced in place of the November meeting.

On recommendation of the project committee, headed by Mrs. Richard Schubart, the PTA ordered the purchase of six raincoats and hats for school patrol members at the Lincoln building at a cost of $19.50.

Feather announced the PTA unit now has 343 members.

police at the time said Harbold drove through a section of smoke coming off a field that was being burned over. As Harbold's car emerged from the smoke, he told police prior to his death, he saw two tractor-trailers coming toward him side by side on the two-lane highway.

According to a police report at the time of the accident, one of the tractor-trailers was being driven by Edward L. Dill, 29, Cleveland Ohio. The other, a mail truck operated by Edward H. Krug Jr., was enroute from Hanover to Harrisburg with the mail and was in the act of passing the Dill-operated vehicle. Police said at that time that Krug sought to swing his tractor-trailer back into its own lane of the highway but it, Harbold's car and the Dill tractor-trailer all collided.

LEWIS GIVES UMW ADVICE AT FAREWELL

By NORMAN WALKER

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Eighty-year-old John L. Lewis, making his farewells to the Mine Workers Union he led for over 40 years, counsels them to "protect your union, cling together."

Lewis, now UMW president-emeritus after retiring as union president in January, bid a sad goodbye to his coal miners at a testimonial banquet Thursday night amid convention sessions here.

The man who fought miners' battles through the years, sometimes against the forces of the government, and who also founded the big labor unions in the steel, auto and other American industries, reported on his stewardship.

"I have grown old in your service," Lewis said. "It has become necessary for me to step aside."

"NEVER BEGUILDED"

"I can only say I have served as sincerely and as faithfully as my capacities would permit. I have never been beguiled by the flatteries or inducements of the men with motives opposed to the welfare of the mine workers."

"I have accepted no favors and there does not exist in America or any where else any one I can't look square in the eye and say either 'yes' or 'no' according to which is in the best interests of the mine workers of America."

Lewis referred to his frequent fights through the years with industrialists and politicians standing in the way while accomplishing his aims for the labor cause.

NOT ALWAYS POWERFUL

"I have never wanted their sympathy," he said. "I enjoy more their opposition. If opposition there is to be, because it's easier to express what's really in your mind when you know your opponent is an enemy to your existence."

But Lewis said the UMW had not always been affluent or powerful. It was here he appealed to miners to keep their union strong.

Some people today, he said, are "astounded at the effrontery" of a labor organization accumulating over 100 million assets such as has the UMW.

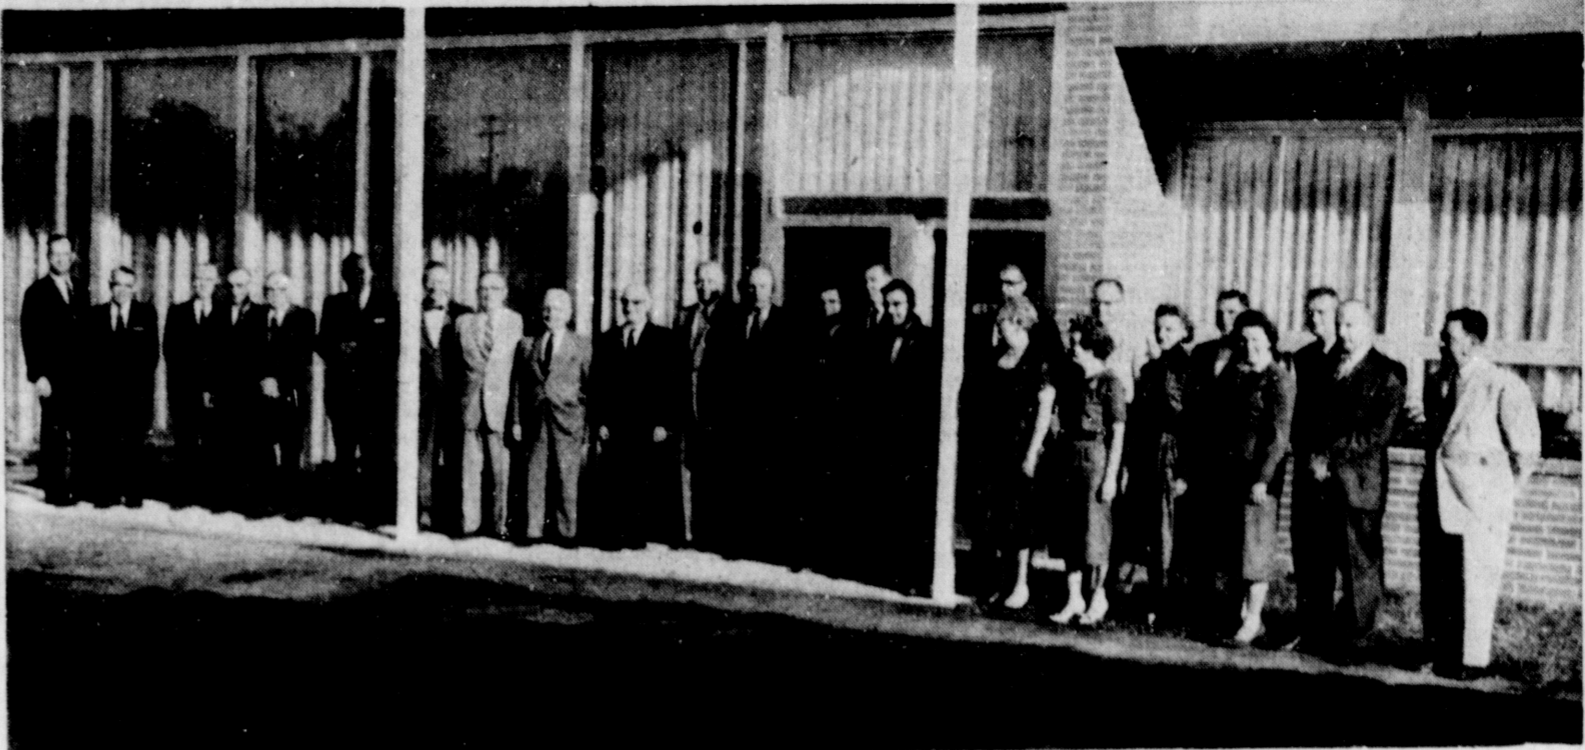

He defended the union's investments, outlined earlier to the UMW convention.

This revealed an extensive blue chip union portfolio in coal mines, railroads, power firms, shipping concerns and banks. The UMW said its investment of about 21 million in the National Bank of Washington now is worth $50 million and, after a few decades, will be valued at some $100 million.

He said he doesn't remember when he made the gift but said, "It was before Vice President Nixon was nominated." He said he gave the funds to a group in Washington.

UNION DONATES $5,000

On the Democratic side, the political action fund of the United Steel Workers Union—with a political action fund of the United Steel Workers Union—with a preponderance of its membership in Pennsylvania—donated $5,000 to the party's national committee.

The union's contribution came in two installments: $1,000 on Jan. 20 and $4,000 on April 23. The committee also reported a gift of $1,200 from J. Paul Simpson of Camp Hill.

President Eisenhower was listed as having contributed $500 to the Nixon-Lodge group. Eisenhower gives Gettysburg as his voting residence.

Charles Lockhart of Pittsburgh matched Eisenhower's donation and Roger M. Blough, president of the U.S. Steel Corp., contributed $1,000 to the Nixon-Lodge fund. Blough, who now resides in New York, is a native of Riverside, Pa.

An organization comparable to the Nixon-Lodge committee, the mas cards, ribbon, wrappings and children's storybooks. This project is for the purpose of raising funds for the Y-Teen program and their objectives. The Christmas items can be secured or ordered from any Y-Teen or items can be seen on display and ordered at the Y-Teen office at the YWCA.

The Seventh Grade Y-Teens will conduct a bake sale Saturday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock at the Y building. Miss Evelyn Miller is their adviser.

U.N. Assembly

seething and ultimately irrepressible mass of resentment among the suffering people. The day will surely come when they will rise in revolt against their oppressors. We Chinese will yet see the day of national liberation."

The imminent vote is not on the question of admitting Red China to U.N. membership, but on the question whether to place a Soviet-backed resolution on the assembly's agenda for full debate. For nine years the United States has persuaded the Assembly to bypass the issue.

The vote last year against putting the Chinese question on the agenda was 44-20, with 9 abstentions.

16 NEW NATIONS

But this year, 16 new nations—predominantly neutralist in attitude—have entered the General Assembly. Khrushchev has been working on them, night and day, inside and outside the U. N.

Until the past few days, American authorities felt certain their proposal had sufficient backing to get the question tabled for another year.

The new neutralist countries, however, now appear to be the big X-factor in the equation.

BALLOT LATE TODAY

Some African and Asian delegates expressed strong feelings over the defeat of the neutralist resolution calling for personal talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev. There were assertions that the United States used "parliamentary trickery" to take the teeth out of the resolution and get it withdrawn.

If this feeling is reflected in the voting today, the outcome could be close. Balloting is expected to start late this afternoon or early tonight.

Khrushchev and other Communist delegates, obviously aiming to attract votes from the African nations, bore down hard on the theme that the United States discriminates against Negroes.

Other major arguments advanced for seating Red China were that 650 million people cannot be ignored; that the Peiping regime is the legitimate government of China and therefore deserves to be in the U. N.

American delegates hit back in these main areas of argument—That Communist China was guilty of aggression against the U. N. itself in the Korean war. That it is still pursuing aggressive policies in Tibet, on the frontier of India and in Southeast Asia.

Citizens for Kennedy-Johnson, listed one $500 contribution as having been submitted jointly by Sam Begler of Pittsburgh and Win Chasman of Jersey City, N.J.

In addition to its contribution to the Democratic National Committee, the Steel Workers Union, through its political action fund, donated $1,000 for the campaign of Rep. Elmer Holland, Pittsburgh Democrat. Holland is a former CIO public relations representative.

The group also contributed $500 each to Dean R. Fisher, Williamsport, and Robert M. Meyers, Lewistown, Democratic candidates for election to the House. The political action fund also reported a gift of $1,000 to the Citizens for Kennedy-Johnson on Aug. 31.

OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS

The Democratic National Committee reported that Andrew Kaul III of St. Marys, Pa. and James P. Clark, Philadelphia trucking operator and long-time Democratic leader, each contributed $1,000. Also given was $500 each from Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) and Clair S. Buchart of York, Pa.

Daniel B. Swaney, Uniontown, contributed $200 and $100 each came from Joseph Lawler, Harrisburg, and Democratic Reps. John H. Dent of Jeanette, James H. Quigley of Camp Hill and Stanley A. Prokop of Lake Ariel.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women, Harrisburg, contributed $1,500 and the Women's Democratic Club of Philadelphia, $332.

Since the turn of the century the Giants top National League baseball teams in pennants with 15. The Dodgers have won the flag 11 times.

Out Of The Past

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Pay Tribute To A. Stanton Who Gave Life: Tribute was paid to the memory of Pfc. Albert S. Stanton, only colored resident of Gettysburg to give his life in World War II, at special services conducted Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the A. M. E. Zion church where Albert had been christened as a child.

The church was nearly filled by friends and relatives for the service, first of its kind ever held in that church conducted by the pastor, the Rev. R. M. Everett. Flowers sent by friends were used in the decorations.

Postal Clerks Hold Meeting: One hundred and ten postal clerks and guests from more than 40 branches in central and eastern Pennsylvania attended their first district meeting since Pearl Harbor Saturday evening at the Battlefield hotel.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver: Borough police are seeking a hit-and-run driver who badly damaged two automobiles in a double collision on Steinwehr avenue and then turned out his lights and fled southward on the Emmitsburg road. The accident occurred about 5:45 o'clock Saturday evening. Police have a description of the car and a part of a bumper which was knocked off that machine in the two collisions which followed in quick succession. No one was injured in the mishaps as far as police know.

Church Tops Building Goal: The annual offering for the building fund was received at Trinity Reformed church Sunday in connection with the church's rally day. The goal for this year was placed at $1,000 when the total amount was counted at the close of the day the sum of $1,300 was reached.

Old Glory Atop Fujiyama: Old Glory flies today from Fujiyama—planted there September 21 by a valiant band of ten officers and enlisted men of the 27th infantry division after a tortuous climb in snow, wind, hail, fog and rain. The rare atmosphere at the top of Japan's 12,365-foot sacred mountain played tricks on their vision, the climbers said. Stones and shoes appeared green-blue. Eyeballs burned. Heavy fog cut their vision to arm's length.

East Berliner Inspects Jap War Prisoners: After the surrender of Japanese forces in southern Mindanao, Pfc. Melvin C. Eisenhart of East Berlin, a machine gunner with the Dixie Division's 17th Regiment, was one of the soldiers in charge of inspecting the possessions of prisoners coming out of the hill near Davao.

Amos F. Bushey Fatally Hurt Near His Home: Injuries suffered in an automobile accident shortly after noon Saturday in front of his home in York Springs resulted fatally about three hours later in the Warner hospital for Amos F. Bushey, 70-year-old retired farmer. Mr. Bushey suffered a fracture of the skull, a crushing injury to his chest and lacerations over the head and body when his machine was struck by a northbound auto bearing five soldiers toward Harrisburg as Mr. Bushey drove on the highway from a driveway at his home along the east side of the road.

Today's Talk

OUR OPPOSITE NATURES
What funny folk we are deep in! How strange that we are the most loyally devoted to our opposites.

People used to marvel at the close friendship that grew up between Thoreau and Stevenson. Such opposites! One loving the quiet and serenity of the forest and streams, content with their companionship; the other pulsating with animal spirits and longing for and enjoying the companionship of friends as few men have.

Stevenson once wrote: "Upon me this pure, narrow, sunnily ascetic Thoreau had exercised a great charm." I think that we get along best with those who are most different from us—maybe having opposite faults to ours. Anyway, if we are very tolerant we see bigger qualities in those who are the least like us.

This goes to prove how wise the great God is. Everybody would be trying to take the same train at the same time, and we would all be seeking to gain the same thing at once, were it not that each of us was built at a different time and molded from just a little different mold.

It was for this reason that patience was invented! Our opposite natures get us into lots of trouble—but they get us out more times than they get us in. It is a splendid thing for us all to reason with ourselves often—and for good periods. Our opposites will like us better if we do! Let's try.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Do It Yourself!" Protected, 1960, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

A DAILY TASK
Though rich or poor, this task we find
Before us every day,
To cheerful be, and also kind
To those upon the way.
To view with patience what we see
Of faults in other men;
This done, our rest will perfect be
When we get home again.

GUEST, SAT., OCT. 8
WHY MOTHER WORRIES
These are troublous days for mother,

Every day the papers she scans to get a word of brother,
Seaching through them anxiously.
Every morning mother tells us
That she had a dreadful dream;
Only worry now is mother's,
Willie's on the football team.

Ever since he's been in college,
Mother's had no peace at all,
All the time she's dreading something
Fearful Willie will befall.

When she hears the doorbell ringing,
Off she gives a frightened scream,
Thinking it is news of Willie,
Who is on the football team.

Never were such anxious moments,
Never such suspense, I'm sure,
As we know at home this autumn,
It is awful to endure.

Mother's growing pessimistic,
Life to her has turned its seam;
She is sure the worst will happen,
Willie's on the football team.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One more like last weekend's football results and this seer will take to pounding his head on the table, not his hand. With one eye on the doings of the Yanks and Pirates and the other near sighted optic straining at the crystal ball here are this weekend's winners (?).

Pitt over Miami—Yogi Berra will teach English at Yale. Princeton over Penn—Did Lou Boudreau quit because the only man he can "banks" on may be deposited elsewhere? Villanova over College of Pacific—Is it true the top song on the hit parade is Bongo, Bongo, Bongo I Don't Want to Leave the Congo?

Army over Penn State—Wonder how Charley Dresen will use Spahn and Burdette in 1961? Delaware over Lafayette—Wilt Chamberlain is going to be a playmaker this year. Bucknell over Buffalo—Are the Philadelphia Phillies just Mauching time?

Quebec Aces In Win Over Barons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Quebec Aces, buried deep in the American Hockey League cellar last season, have served notice that they do not intend to be door mats this year. After losing to Cleveland 4-2 in their opener on Tuesday, they bounced back Thursday night with a 3-1 decision over the Barons in the circuit's only game.

The Aces spotted the Barons a goal by Aldo Guidolin near the halfway mark of the first period, then struck from behind with two goals in the second period and one in the third. Norm Corcoran and Georges Bouchard were the second period scorers. Jean-Marie Cossette tallied in the third.

SCHOLASTIC GRID CHOICES FOR WEEKEND

By FRED B. WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—This is a day for cheering over the Pirates' chances of coming back from New York with either the world championship or a 3-2 lead in the series.

It's an off day for the two series teams, but—hope—not for the football prognosticators. Let's take a look at the key high school football games in Pennsylvania first: East:

West Catholic at LaSalle (Sunday)—It looks very much like one of these teams will go on to win the Philadelphia Catholic League championship and maybe the city title. LaSalle looks tougher.

Altoona at Easton (Friday)—The Mountain Lions are one of the state's most traveled teams. This trip to the Lehigh Valley school's home grounds looks like an unhappy one. Midstate: Hazleton at Berwick (Saturday)—Hazleton, last year's East Penn Southern Division champion, is back on top again this year despite pre-season prognostications to the contrary. Berwick, favorite to succeed Hazleton, has been an in-and-out this year. Hazleton to win.

Sayre at Athens (Saturday)—Sayre has a good club again this year. Look for it to dispatch its leading Roosevelt Trail League rival.

Bishop McDevitt at John Harris (Saturday)—These two Harrisburg schools look stronger every week. It's a non-conference affair that will stamp the winner as one of the midstate area's best. John Harris is the choice.

West: Beaver Falls at Butler (Friday)—They get tougher every week for Beaver Falls. Butler also is unbeaten, but the pick is Beaver Falls.

Washington at Mount Lebanon (Friday)—If history repeats, the Mounties' bid for the WPIAL-AA championship should be stopped either here or against Uniontown later this month. We'll guess the Mounties to hand Washington its first conference loss.

Erie Academy-Erie Prep, Erie East-Erie Strong Vincent (Friday, Saturday)—We'll pick Erie Prep and East to win and whet the appetite for their showdown Oct. 21.

CLAMP LED ON WHEREABOUTS OF INVADERS

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government today clamped secrecy on operations against a band of invaders who escaped to the mountains after landing on the northeast tip of Cuba this week. A reliable source reported that four separate invading groups totaling 200 men landed during the week. There was no confirmation of the report.

The government admitted only one landing—an estimated 27 men—and said the leader was killed and two of the band captured. The others got away.

A spokesman for Castro said the prime minister regarded the landing as "of very little importance" and was remaining in Havana to deliver a major address to the nation on Monday. But it was rumored in Santiago that the prime minister's younger brother, Maj. Raul Castro, the armed forces minister, was personally commanding the hunt.

INCLUDES 3 AMERICANS
A communique said three Americans were among the 24 survivors of the landing who made for the mountains after hitting the shore. The hunt centered in the rugged hill country on the north shore of Oriente Province. It was in Oriente that Castro launched his revolution to topple Fulgencio Batista.

Government-controlled Havana newspapers and radio stations played up the landing and stressed the communique's allegation that the invasion band had official U.S. support.

The stage apparently was being set for Castro to deliver another attack on the United States and President Eisenhower's administration when he speaks on Monday. There was also the possibility of reverberations in the United Nations.

In Washington, Press Officer Francis Tully said the State Department had no information about the invasion. He said there were some "comic opera aspects" about the Cuban report the invaders carried an American flag.

Sen. Goldwater's Life Threatened
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's officers, police and FBI men will guard Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona when he speaks Saturday at a GOP rally, authorities said. Extra protection was ordered after Donald L. McLaughlin, chairman of the Santa Barbara County Republican Central Committee, told of receiving a call from an unidentified man who said: "Listen and listen very carefully: When Barry Goldwater comes to town he will never leave alive."

Smokey Says:

Lawrence Backs Good Libraries

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Lawrence reaffirmed his interest in library improvement legislation today and chided the State Senate for what he termed its obstructionism to such efforts in the past. "I think as you do," Lawrence told delegates to the Pennsylvania Library Association's annual convention here, "that we cannot have effective education without good libraries. The two go hand in hand; they are inseparable."

Lawrence reviewed the growth of libraries, and said "there is a greater need, today, than at any previous era in our history for the state government to accept a portion of the responsibility for local library improvement. This aid, when it comes, must be given without any effort, or implied effort, to 'control' local boards or their community's library."

Santa Claus Comes Early In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Christmas in October? Not for most folks, but how else can you explain what happened at the Oklahoma Welfare Department Thursday.

The department received a plain brown envelope containing $1,800 in cash—but no explanation or identification of the donor. The return address was false.

Welfare Director Lloyd Rader reasoned the secret Santa Claus may have been a client with an uneasy conscience—a person receiving welfare payments who wasn't eligible.

FRANKLIN, Ky. (AP)—It took some time for Henry Bogan to receive his Purple Heart but the Franklin postmaster and one-time Marine gunnery sergeant is glad he got the medal. It arrived this week, 42 years to the day after he was wounded by a German sniper near the close of World War I.

See Passing Duel In Penn-Army Tilt

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)

—Penn State goes to West Point Saturday to face favored Army in a football battle which shapes up to be a passing duel. Coach Rip Engle practically admitted that State's only chance for victory was in passing. He hinted at some changes which might mean that sophomore Pete Liske, who was a star passer with last year's freshman team, may get in action early.

Galen Hall, first string quarterback did well in the air last year, but hasn't regained his form thus far this season. Army Coach Dale Hall is impressed with the passing of Tom Blanda which has helped the Cadets to three straight victories without a loss. Penn State has a 1-1 record.

COACH GETTING FREE BENEFITS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Coaching has its hazards, but the former mentor of the Minneapolis Lakers basketball team got a break on his jobless pay claim. The Minnesota Department of Employment Security has decided John Castellani could collect even though he quit. The reason: "because of conditions peculiar to the claimant's type of employment." Castellani resigned Jan. 2.

FACED WITH ALTERNATING
A three-man appeals board held that he "was faced with the alternative of being discharged and publicly humiliated by being fired as head coach and was left with no other choice but to resign. The claimant's inability to produce a winning team does not constitute misconduct."

The once-great Lakers after a series of poor or mediocre seasons and lagging fan interest here, were transferred to Los Angeles last spring. The amount of jobless benefits Castellani may draw was not disclosed. The maximum in Minnesota is $38 a week for 26 weeks.

Bullets Have Big Task In Clash With Lehigh At Bethlehem Saturday

One of the strongest teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference, university division, is Coach Bill Leckonby's Lehigh Engineers. Gettysburg College's football team will have its hands full when it clashes with the Engineers in Bethlehem Saturday at 1:30.

It will mark the 29th meeting between the two schools in a series which began in 1915. The Engineers hold the upper hand with 15 wins and nine losses. Four games ended in a tie. Last year Lehigh squeezed out a 15-14 decision and the year before the two squads played to a 14-14 dead-lock.

The last Gettysburg victory came in 1953 when the Bullets downed their strong opponents 22-7. The 1953 encounter was also the largest score rolled up against the Engineers. Lehigh's widest margin of victory was in 1917 when it walloped the Bullets 78-0.

Lehigh is currently riding high on a two-game winning streak with wins over last season's MAC champs, Delaware, and favored Colgate. Gettysburg was stopped in its first game 14-7 by Bucknell but came back last week with a 26-0 romp over Juniata.

Saturday's encounter should turn into a running duel between Pat Clark, Lehigh, and the Bullets' Eddie Lucas. Last week against Colgate, Clark, 5'10, 170-pound sophomore from York, rolled up four touchdowns and set up a fifth in the Engineers' 39-22 win. Lucas, 5'8, 165-pound senior from Eddystone, turned in the same performance for the Bullets as he crossed the goal line four times.

Lucas is the leading ground gainer for Gene Haas' squad with 106-yard net gain in two contests. Earl Little, junior quarterback, is currently setting the pace in the passing and total offense departments. The Gettysburg product has completed 13 of 34 aeriels for 170 yards, but has lost 15 yards on the ground giving him a total offense of 155 yards. Harry Richter, Bethlehem, is out in front in pass receiving with nine catches for 116 yards.

The Engineers' starting lineup will probably consist of ends, Carl Schwenker, 5-11, 170, and Bill Jones, 6-2, 190; tackles, Reed Bohovich, 6-4, 245, and Mike Semchuk, 6-2, 215; guards, Doug Edwards, 6-0, 215, and Joe Posillio, 5-11, 195; center, Ed Murphy, 6-0, 200; quarterback, John Highfield, 5-8, 165; halfbacks, Boyd Taylor, 6-1, 205, and Al Richmond, 5-11, 160; fullback, Charles Wentz, 5-10, 175.

THREE SIDELINED
Haas indicated that Ron Frederick, Bob Coble and Frank Temme may still be sidelined for the Lehigh game. Sophomores Ron Council and Ralph Sorrentino have returned to full-time duty and will probably see action this week.

As far as Lehigh is concerned, Haas said, "They showed a pretty evenly balanced attack in both their games. Therefore I expect them to throw the same type of offense against us. Lehigh is the type of ball club that won't let you concentrate on one particular phase of their attack. You must concentrate on their overall balance. They have excellent running ability and good passers with fine receivers."

The Bullets will go with their same lineup used in the past two outings. The only exceptions will be Lance Butler at left end and Lee Roeder and Gary Kerr at the guards.

BETHLEHEM — Favorites for the first time in three games, Lehigh will play host to Gettysburg at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Taylor Stadium in Bethlehem and Coach Bill Leckonby is concerned about the possibility of a letdown by the Engineers.

"We've been fortunate enough to defeat two strong teams, but there is no reason to believe that this game will be any less difficult," he said. "We'll have to contain a set of fast backs and a very fine passer if we're going to beat Gettysburg."

Tidbits On World Series

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mrs. Vernon Law, wife of the Pirate right-hand pitcher who defeated the New York Yankees in the series opener, accepted Thursday's defeat just as philosophically as the Pirate players did.

"I guess if you're going to lose you might as well lose by a big score," Mrs. Law said. "Of course, no one likes to lose."

Most of the Pirate wives sat in back of home plate.

No pictures were taken in the Pirate clubhouse after Pittsburgh was defeated 16-3 by the New York Yankees.

The Pirates didn't request photographers to stay out. It merely is a World Series custom that no pictures are taken in the losing clubhouse.

Fred Hovde, president of Purdue University, was somewhat neutral at the second game.

Two former Purdue graduates played in the game—pitcher Bob Friend for Pittsburgh and first baseman Bill Skowron for New York.

As usual, newsmen jammed the New York dugout to talk with Yankee Manager Casey Stengel before the second game.

About the same time, Yankee first baseman Dale Long was trying to get out of the dugout to take some batting practice.

After several minutes of pushing and maneuvering, Long finally managed to work his way through the mass of reporters. Then he shrugged his shoulders, looked up at one newsmen and asked:

"Who's down there anyway? Marilyn Monroe?"

The Pirates may have lost the second game 16-3, but the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Sun-Telegraph is far from giving up hope.

The following two-line banner headline appeared on the front page this morning:

"Pirate second victory slightly delayed; beat 'em, Bucs, next time!"

Left fielder Bob Skinner of the Pittsburgh Pirates was sidelined with a jammed thumb Thursday.

He hurt the thumb sliding into third base in the fifth inning of the opener.

Pirate trainer Danny Whelan said Skinner should be ready for action for the third game.

Gettysburg Junior High drove for a touchdown after receiving the opening kick off and then threw up a stout defense to repel repeated Waynesboro threats to register a 6-0 victory in a South Penn Junior High League game Thursday evening at Waynesboro.

The Braves marched 68 yards for their score, the drive being highlighted by a 16-yard run by Ronnie Miller and a 33-yard dash by Joe Riley. An off-side penalty thwarted a Brave touchdown when Charley Schleicher whipped a 13-yard aerial to Doug Bream. However, three plays later Gettysburg scored when Riley bolted over from the two. Jim Newman was stopped when he attempted to run for the point.

From that point on the Braves were forced to wage a defensive battle and they turned in a terrific performance. Three Waynesboro drives were stopped inside the five-yard line in the first half. As the half ended Waynesboro was on the four-yard line.

RECOVER FUMBLE
Early in the final period Waynesboro carried the ball over from the one but fumbled with Gettysburg recovering for a touchdown.

Late in the last quarter the stout Brave defense took possession of the ball which was just short of the goal line after Waynesboro had had a first down on the 10-yard stripe.

Next Thursday afternoon at 3:45 the Braves meet the league-leading Shippensburg outfit here.

MANTLE WAS AFRAID HE'D WHIFF AGAIN

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle was scared when he came to bat in the fifth inning of the second game of the World Series between the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates. He envisioned another four-strikeout day similar to that horrible afternoon of Oct. 2, 1953, when Brooklyn's Carl Erskine fanned him four consecutive times.

"I had already struck out once," Mantle said after the game in Pittsburgh Thursday. "And after those two strikeouts in the opening game, I sure was not feeling good. I don't mind telling you I was scared. When Green (left-hander Fred Green) had two strikes on me, I thought to myself: 'Uh-huh, I'm in for another bad day.'"

CLOUTS 2-RUN HOMER
"Once I get going bad, I keep right on going. All I kept thinking of was when Erskine struck me out four times. And I figured I'm just the boy who could do it again."

Mickey didn't have long to worry. The switch-hitter, batting right-handed, walloped the next pitch into the lower right field stands for a two-run homer and the Yankees went on to pound out a 16-3 triumph to square the series at one victory apiece.

Mantle fanned for the fourth time he came to bat, but in the seventh, with two runners aboard, he pole-axed a pitch by southpaw Joe Gibbon over the 15-foot wall in deepest center, a tremendous drive some 460 feet. His second homer gave him a series total of 13 out of two short of the series record set by the mighty Babe Ruth.

"I might have a chance to break Ruth's record if they keep pitching left-handers," said Mantle. "I wish that's all they had. I'm a lot better right-handed. I just don't feel good batting left-handed. I don't know what's the matter but I've been plain lousy the last two weeks hitting left-handed. I just can't seem to get set. The ball sort of jumps up on me. I get set to swing and my hands lock up on me."

There was no real moaning and no gloating in either dressing room. The players realized two games don't make a Series.

"MUST BEAT TIGERS"
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We have to beat them and we will," Coach John Stegman of the University of Pennsylvania says in looking forward to Saturday's Ivy League football contest against Princeton at Franklin Field here.

Some 600 Penn students attended a pep rally Thursday night to encourage the Quakers.

PIRATES GLOOM AS YANKEES SEE SUNSHINE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Yankees shared the sunshine and shadows during the second World Series game at Forbes Field Thursday, but the sunshine followed only the Yankees to the dressing rooms.

The shadows hung over the Bucs' quarters, and they were cast by the horrendous 16-3 drubbing inflicted by the New Yorkers to square the Series at one-all.

The elation in the Yankee dressing room was not as high-pitched as might be imagined, and by the same token the gloom in the Pirate quarters was not unfathomable.

JUST GOT BEAT
"I prefer getting beat by a big score as long as I have to lose," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh philosophically.

Don Hoak, Buc third baseman, echoed Murtaugh's sentiments.

"Hell, we got beat," he exploded. "And I'm like Danny. If we lose by a big score we don't have to hang our heads and worry about some mistakes—the kind of mistakes that cost you victory in these 3-2 and 2-1 games. We made a good many mistakes out there, but we learned something. We'll profit by it and don't worry about us not winning the Series. We'll win okay."

FRIEND GLOOMIEST
Bob Friend, starting and losing pitcher, took the defeat hardest.

He pitched good ball the four innings he worked before being taken out for a pinch hitter. He fanned six, walked two, allowed six hits and two earned runs.

"I had as good stuff on the ball as I have ever had," Friend said. "Naturally I hated to be taken out, but that's life. . . . If I have the same kind of stuff that I had today we'll beat the Yanks when I pitch again. Some of those hits they got off me were not such hot hits to my way of thinking."

Murtaugh said he would have left Friend in the game if Bill Mazeroski had kept the fourth-inning rally going with a hit. Mazeroski lined to third base, and strategy called for a pinchhitter, Murtaugh reasoned.

The Yankees, to, etc., 8th graf
The Yankees, to whom World Series victories are old hat, took the game pretty much in stride. Mickey Mantle virtually apologized for hitting two rousing home runs.

"I wish I could have saved them for a time when they meant something," the Mick said.

BERRA AWKWARD
Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, explained why he put Yogi Berra in left field and Elston Howard behind the plate.

"I'm not afraid to start Berra anywhere," the gnarled skipper said. "He's awkward but he covers a lot of ground. We need his hitting."

There was no real moaning and no gloating in either dressing room. The players realized two games don't make a Series.

LONG KICKS
A couple of soccer players were invited to the football field to show some kicking. They boomed them into or beyond the end zone on every try. This would kill any runbacks by speedy Iowa.

Daugherty made a quick eligibility check and gave order to issue the pair uniforms.

One of the new football recruits is Cecil Heron, 32, 5-8, 160 pounds, and an All America soccer team selection last fall.

The other is Renier (Dutch) Kemeling, 24, 6-1, 175 pounds, a sophomore.

The kicking specialists will be in for one play and will stay back at safety after the kick.

SP Title Series To Open Sunday At Arendtsville

Cashtown and Arendtsville will meet at Arendtsville Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the first of their best-of-three series for the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball League.

Arendtsville, regular season champs, took two of three games from Mummaburg in a semifinal series, while Cashtown, second place team in the regular season, eliminated Haney in two straight.

The second game of the series will be played at Cashtown on October 16.

WINS $6,280 ON HIGHEST TRACK PAYOFF

DETROIT (AP) — A sprightly little old man from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was a big winner in the highest daily double payoff of the Michigan racing season—$1,236 for $2.

The gentleman held five $2 tickets on the winning combination at Hazel Park race track Thursday.

Stepping up to the mutual window to collect $6,280, he declined to give his name to reporters.

But before he could cash in his tickets, he had to give his name and address to track officials. A recent ruling from the Internal Revenue Service requires the tracks to obtain such information from winners of pool-type wagers over $600.

HAD A DREAM
To newsmen, the winner gave only his age—76—and he also confided how he happened to pick the winners of the first and second races for the daily double.

He had a dream. The program numbers of the winning horses would be 10 and 3. And they would pay a big price. So he rushed by plane to Detroit some 200 miles away.

Besides buying five $2 tickets on the daily double, he said he bet heavily on the same horses in separate bets on the first and second races. He didn't say how much these bets paid off. But O'Reilly, winner of the first race, paid $136.40, and Cosmic Wish, winner of the second, paid $19.40.

SOCER STAR WILL KICK OFF
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A soccer player wearing shorts will kick off for Michigan State in Saturday's football game with Iowa.

"We're going to put the foot back in football," grinned State Coach Duffy Daugherty.

Daugherty actually has a better reason. He tossed nights over the 99-yard kickoff runback for a touchdown scored by Michigan last Saturday.

Yankees Favorites Again After Mauling Pittsburgh 16-3 In "Mass Murder"

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees were back in their familiar role today—a 17 to 10 favorite to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series—after the mass murder scene in Forbes Field.

Led by Mickey Mantle, the Yankees annihilated six Pirate pitchers Thursday as they pounded out 19 assorted hits to bury the National League champions under a 16-3 avalanche.

The series thus moves into Yankee Stadium all even at one victory apiece. Inactive today, the participants resume warfare Saturday with a southpaw duel featuring Whitey Ford of the Yankees against Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell of the Pirates. The Yanks are 3 to 2 favorite in the Saturday game.

LONG MANTLE HOMERS
Mantle, enjoying his greatest Series game, hammered two tremendous home runs, one of 390 feet and another of 460 and drove in a record tying five runs. Elston Howard, catching his first World Series game, walloped a triple and Gil McDougald, Bobby Richardson and Cletis Boyer cracked doubles.

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh, asked whether he intended to re-appraise the Yankee hitters for the third game, said wryly:

"We already know how to pitch to them."

Then he added philosophically: "I prefer getting beat by a big score as long as I have to lose. Today's game gave me an opportunity to play all of my young fellows. It gave them a little experience in the World Series—some of it pretty hard experience."

Murtaugh could have used the National League all-stars Thursday and it wouldn't have done him any good. The Yankee sluggers hit everyone and everything in sight. Right-hander Bob Turley was able to coast to his easy victory after a seven-run explosion in the sixth inning.

"The boys showed me they still know how to win World Series games," said Yankee Manager Casey Stengel. "We could have won the first one, too, but my pitchers let me down."

TERRY ON SUNDAY
"We outbit them in the first game, 13 to 8, but apparently those fellows didn't learn nuthin' from it. This might let them see that they better be careful of some of our hitters. I'd say they got a better lesson because I think we were a little better than the day before."

Casey said he planned to use Ralph Terry, his 24-year-old right-hander, in the fourth game on Sunday "unless I get in a jam in the third game and have to put him in."

"In that case, I won't be afraid to pitch my young fellow, 32-year old Bill Stafford who we brought up from Richmond in August 1. He's a good one, too."

the Dreadful moments of childhood

Grownups forget that a child experiences fear, disappointment and despair even more often than they.

Experience prepares the adult for sudden shocks. A child stumbles upon them unaware.

And each will breed more bitterness in his heart, if he has not found firm foundation for his courage, perseverance and hope.

But when a boy or girl has been given the undergirding of religious faith, the dreadful moments challenge rather than destroy.

Our children pray more often than we realize. They believe more confidently than we suppose. Life teaches them to draw strength from their faith . . . self-confidence from their trust in God.

But you and I must provide them opportunity to acquire faith. And our own example in worship and life must inspire their trust in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LIONS' SHOW COMMITTEES GIVE REPORTS

Reports of committee chairmen and co-chairmen at the meeting of the Lions Club Thursday evening in the Star Light room of Dutterer's restaurant, revealed that all is in readiness for the annual presentation of TV Party Time under Lions Club auspices on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Three shows will be featured this year. The Arthur Murray Dance Party will have H. Dean Stover of the high school faculty as Arthur and Mrs. Robert W. Hall as Kathryn Murray. The waltz team will be Edward B. and Kathryn Geiman; the jitterbug will be done by Judy Shomper and Donald Orndorff and the polka by Charles and Rebe Etta Weikert, with the Arthur Murray dancers.

"It Could Be You" will be the second show on the program and William R. Jones will emcee with Richard A. Maitland assisting. Somebody in the community will be singled out for special honors; the four-leaf clover feature of the television show will bring luck to someone in the audience and there will be other prizes and surprises.

SOUTH AFRICA IS LOOKING TO FIRST LEADER

By HENRI JONKER

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africans turned today to the question of who will be their first president after final returns showed the country has voted to become a republic.

The South African Press Association said the complete vote in Wednesday's all-white referendum gave a 73,980 majority for a republic—849,958 votes to 775,978.

Long before, however, South Africans had accepted the word of an electric computer that the pro-republic forces of Nationalist Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd had won. The computer had forecast a republican majority of close to 80,000 even while the anti-republicans were still ahead in early returns.

TO PROCLAIM REPUBLIC

The republic is expected to be proclaimed early next year after Verwoerd presents to the Nationalist-dominated Parliament legislation making a president the chief of state instead of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II.

The present governor general, Charles R. Swart, and Finance Minister Theophilus E. Dinges were regarded as the two strongest possibilities for president.

Swart, 65, a former journalist and movie extra in the United States who as a child was a prisoner in a British concentration camp at the end of the Boer War, would be an obvious choice. He entered Parliament at the age of 24 and was Nationalist interior minister for 11 years before he was appointed governor general.

He may prefer to retire to private life, however. If he does, informed political sources said, Dinges would be the leading possibility.

Dinges, 52, has a reputation as one of the more moderate and level-headed members of the Cabinet. A man with a silver tongue who got his law degree at the University of London, he might allay some of the fears of British-descended South Africans who bitterly fought the republic.

Typhoon Kit Hits Philippines Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Kit cut a path of destruction through the central Philippines today.

Its winds at 90 miles an hour moved across the southern Luzon peninsula and slammed into the Visayan Islands on a northwest course to the South Sea.

Early reports indicated heavy damage and some casualties in the Visayans, already battered by a series of floods and typhoons this year. Ten persons drowned in the sinking of a motor vessel off Masbate Island.

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—The minister of the First Methodist Church of Lake Wales is offering trading stamps for attendance at Sunday night services.

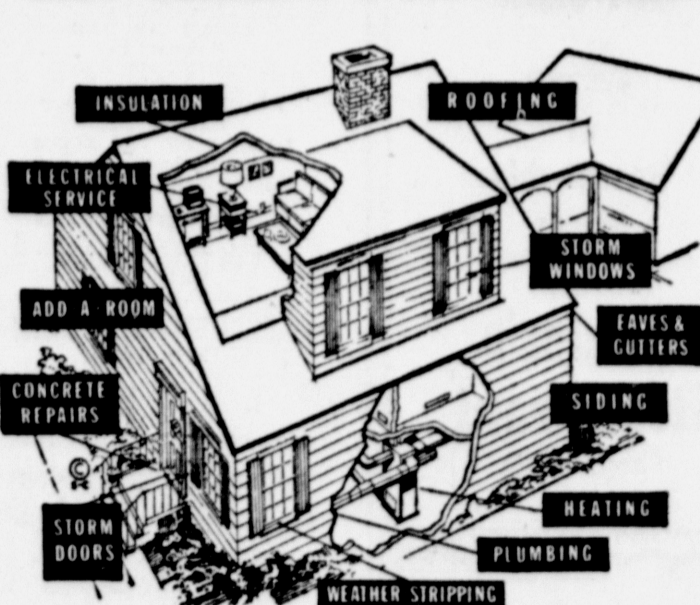

The Rev. Robert C. Boggs said Thursday that each person attending church Sunday night would receive five stamps.

"It's my impression that some feel more at home where trading stamps are offered than they do in the normal church service," he said. "We want everyone to feel at home."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—H. George Buckwald of Lakewood is the new president of the United Tavern Association of New Jersey.

He was elected Thursday at the association's 28th annual convention to succeed Joseph Zimmerman of New Brunswick.

October Is National Restaurant Month

Restaurants Have Historical Origin; Drive-ins Started In New Jersey About 1762

Ask the average person when the restaurant business began and by one might get a guess ranging from 100 years to 500 years ago, but actually the first public eating place was opened about 2,500 years ago.

William Wittig, a New York statistician with a deep interest in such things, dug into history recently and came up with the claim that the first public dining spot was opened in Egypt in 512 B.C.

Today restaurants play an important role in the economy of the nation and in its social life, too. It follows that restaurants, catering to people of all walks of life, are bound to have a profound effect on customs, social manners, conventions and decorum.

ILLUSTRATE CHANGES
To illustrate the revolutionary changes that have taken place in the restaurant picture through the centuries, Mr. Wittig cited these examples:

The first public dining place in Egypt served only one dish consisting of cereal, wild fowl and onions. Ladies were not permitted to frequent this "restaurant," but in view of the choice of the menu, there probably weren't too many of the womenfolk who regretted this rule.

During the next 120 years married women were granted the privilege of accompanying their husbands to restaurants and by this time, too, menus were a little more varied. In 402 B.C. little boys received the good news that they were permitted to sit at the dinner table with their parents, but as far as girls were concerned, they still had to wait until they were married.

BANKRUPTCY POLICIES

Two hundred and fifty more years elapsed before history was able to record another innovation. This occurred in Rome in 153 B.C. and proved of short duration. It appears that through the "forgetfulness" of patrons, the first "pay-as-you-leave" restaurant went into bankruptcy. By 70 B.C. dining had become a real art and Cicero paid the equivalent of $40,000 for a specially constructed citrus-wood dining table.

Most of us are familiar, no doubt, with the expression "subrosa." This expression may be traced back to ancient Rome where a rose placed on a dining table assured the guests that anything they said during the meal would not be repeated. To a Roman goes credit also for introducing the "Business Men's Lunch." This occurred during 40 B.C. and was the brainchild of an innkeeper anxious to cater to shipbrokers who were too busy to go home for their noon meals.

The first form of entertainment in restaurants may be traced to Spain where, in 1125, innkeepers stimulated dinner trade by providing story tellers for their guests. In the 13th century, upper class Chinese followed the adage "to eat like a bird" while dining in public. Then they would rush home and have the little woman prepare a real meal.

ORIGIN OF NAME

The name "restaurant" is believed to have originated in the mid-16th century when medicinal soup was called "restorant." One tavern famous for this soup was called a restaurant by its patrons, and it wasn't long before other taverns took up the name.

To Constantinople goes credit for opening the first coffee houses in Europe. They were established there in 1554 as centers of entertainment appealing to all classes of society.

An innkeeper's life in France during 1621 was anything but rosy. It seems that in that year a law was passed whereby the innkeeper was liable to arrest and imprisonment if a patron complained of a stomach ache after eating.

American ingenuity in restaurant operations, appears to have entered the historical picture in 1762, when an enterprising innkeeper in New Jersey conceived the idea of a "drive-in" restaurant with "curb service." Here a man on horseback could ride up to a special window and have his meal served without dismounting. Our historical record failed to mention how this system worked out in those cases where the patrons' steed proved a little too high spirited.

We hear numerous complaints today about the high cost of living. In this respect, we differ very little from our ancestors of 1799 who thought that New York restaurants were prone to overdo it just a bit by charging the unheard of sum of 18 cents for a full-course dinner. During 1799 also, dinners served in New England inns came to be called "square meals" because most of the food was prepared in square tins.

NIXON SCHEDULE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, today made public a schedule of his campaigning for the week of Oct. 17. It includes stops in Lancaster, West Chester, Chester, Norristown, Doylestown and Allentown, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 22.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Terry Linn Dayhoff, 2, was struck and killed by a car here Thursday. The motorist, Robert Albright, 41, also Harrisburg, said he did not see the child.

Price Factor Not Alone In Attitude

In a recent consumer attitude survey made by General Foods Corp. in co-operation with the National Restaurant Association, it was shown that price is not the main factor in evaluating the attitude toward restaurants.

On the subject of restaurant prices, 62% of the people interviewed said that they considered restaurant prices were reasonable while only 23% considered them high.

WANT FASTER SERVICE

Also, on the subject of how restaurants might increase business, 27% of the people interviewed suggested more friendly, efficient and faster service; 35% suggested better cooked and more variety in the choice of foods, and 26% suggested improving the cleanliness, atmosphere and general appearance of the restaurant. Only 19% of the people interviewed suggested more reasonable prices as a method of increasing restaurant business.

These suggestions on how restaurants might increase business were similar to the ideas expressed to describe a good restaurant in the same survey.

26 COUNTIES GIVE GOP LEAD

HARRISBURG (AP)—Five out of the latest seven counties to file officials figures for the Nov. 8 election have shown a registration in favor of the Republican party.

The seven filings Thursday brought to 26 (out of 67) the number of counties that have made their returns to the State Elections Bureau. The total for the 26 counties was 846,317 voters, including 373,341 Democrats and 469,515 Republicans.

Thursday's filings were (republicans, Democrats, Republicans, other):
Butler — 88-20,532-31,808-408;
Columbia — 62-15,666-11,905-285;
Fayette — 123-59,147-23,642-344;
Franklin — 70-18,690-30,380-708;
Lebanon — 54-13,738-26,687-447;
Lycoming — 100-23,413-30,475-81;

Two New Yorkers Killed In Crash

HARRISBURG (AP)—A man and woman from New York state were killed Thursday night in a truck-auto collision on U. S. 22 about 15 miles east of here.

State police said Robert Polar, 75, Selden, N. Y., was attempting to make a u-turn on the four-lane divided highway when his car was struck broadside by the tractor-trailer. Polar and his passenger, Anna Viola Monahan, 61, Patchogue, N. Y., were killed.

The truck driver, Gordon E. Troxell, 33, Thompsonstown, Juniata County, was uninjured.

Ken Hamlin, Kansas City shortstop, is the only American League rookie wearing uniform No. 2 this season.

ALL DRIVERS IN STATE TO TAKE EXAMS SOON

HARRISBURG (AP)—All of Pennsylvania's 5½ million licensed drivers will be required to pass physical fitness tests within the next six to 10 years, the commissioner of traffic safety says.

Commissioner O. D. (Mike) Shipley said Thursday the state expects to take about three groups a year after evaluating the results of tests on the first group this fall and winter.

Shipley made his disclosure as Gov. Lawrence announced a revision in the scheduling for the first test group.

PLAY CROSS-SECTION

The governor gave final approval to a plan to take a cross section of all age groups in the 1961 renewal period—November through January—rather than just those drivers licensed prior to 1924. The original plan had been to examine this oldest group of drivers this fall.

Shipley said the state discarded the original plan since it was impossible to sort out this pre-1924 group because so many old licensing records were destroyed in a 1936 flood. Taking a cross section of all age groups now, he added, would give a better idea of the effectiveness of the program.

Examination of current licensees will be the next and most important phase of the physical fitness program first announced by Lawrence last February.

78,000 TESTED

New applicants have had to pass the examination since June 1. About 78,000 have been examined since then but less than one per cent (.09) turned down. In addition, some 25,000 state employees who drive state-owned cars or on state business are in the process of taking the tests. Shipley estimated that some 196,000 licensed drivers will be checked in the three-month period for obtaining the 1961 renewal licenses.

Drivers chosen for the first group will be those whose plate numbers (upper lefthand corner of the 1960 license) fall within these sequences: 1-45,000; 1,000-1,052,000; 2,000-2,060,400; 3,000-3,048,800; 4,000-4,038,100; 5,000-5,042,500; 6,000-6,038,900; 7,000-7,042,500; 8,000-8,038,600; 9,000-9,026,500; 10,000-10,028,300; 11,000-11,019,300; 12,000-12,025,900.

Lawrence said in a statement accompanying his announcement that he is convinced these physical examinations "will have a significant impact in lowering the accident rate and the death toll on our highways."

It will not result, he added, "in wholesale removal of operators' licenses," but "will simply remove from the highways that very small proportion of drivers whose physical condition makes them an extreme hazard."

Motorists obliged to submit to physical examinations will be notified in a letter advising them of the location of state police testing stations. The state police will check vision and the driver's use of his hands.

The driver's personal physician will complete the second part of the test. The doctor will examine the driver for neurological disorders and heart conditions that might affect ability to control a vehicle, tendency to blackouts or fainting spells, alcoholism, narcotics addiction or uncontrolled diabetes or epilepsy.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When the time came to replace the 18-year-old beacon light atop Lockbourne Air Force Base's 169-foot water tower, the contractor did it in appropriate aerial fashion. The 400-pound beacon was lifted into place by helicopter.

Treat Your Wife Theme For Month

"Give your wife a treat, take her out to eat," is the slogan for National Restaurant Month.

Restaurateurs of this area are joining in the observance during October.

The National Restaurant Association recently conducted a survey to determine just how much America does eat out.

HEALTHY INDUSTRY

According to the U. S. Bureau of Census, the average monthly expenditures of the public in eating and drinking establishments in 1959 was $1,530,000,000. In 1955 the figure was $1,138,000,000, so it is obvious that this is a healthy, growing industry. This monthly expenditure, however, fluctuates with the seasons.

Another big question was: "What do Americans look for in a restaurant?" The answer provided by the survey is that good quality food ranks first in importance, clean neat appearance ranks second, efficient and courteous service ranks third, and reasonable prices ranks fourth.

Washer Disturbs Conversation

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A woman telephoned police that she feared a friend with whom she had been talking on the telephone had collapsed. She asked that a squad car be sent to investigate.

When officers arrived they found the woman talking again on the telephone.

Her explanation: She suddenly remembered she had forgotten to turn off her washing machine, and in the midst of her conversation had dropped the telephone and ran to the basement.

REPUBLICAN-DEMOCRAT

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned early today from a tumultuous reception in Cleveland to rest up before tonight's debate with his Democratic opponent, John F. Kennedy.

Tonight's meeting at 7:30 Eastern Daylight Time will be the second of four scheduled face-to-face encounters between the presidential contenders.

Nixon's big reception in Cleveland came after a rousing sendoff earlier in the day at Nashville, Tenn. Both are normally Democratic areas in which the Republicans hope to make heavy inroads. From the standpoint of crowds, Nixon was given an edge over Kennedy's earlier appearance in Nashville and at least a standoff in Cleveland.

250,000 SEE NIXON

It took 30 minutes for Nixon's open convertible to travel five city blocks through flag-waving, cheering Cleveland crowds.

James P. Holloran, commissioner of traffic, estimated at first that a quarter of a million persons saw Nixon's motorcade inch its way along Euclid avenue in downtown Cleveland after his arrival by air from Nashville. Later he scaled this down to 150,000.

At Cleveland's Public Hall, Nixon, looking fresh after a strenuous day, spoke to 12,000 seated in front of him and about 4,000 in a tiered music hall section rising from the back of the stage.

The vice president drew thundering approval from the auditorium crowd when he predicted "we're going to win Ohio." He said many Democrats are going to switch over to the Republican column in November to give the GOP victories in Ohio and other states.

MOTHER OF 3 SHOT TO DEATH BY HUSBAND

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Arlene Hornberger, 31, the mother of three children, was shot to death Thursday night following a quarrel with her husband, police said.

An hour after the shooting, the husband, Charles H. Hornberger, 35, was arrested at his parents' home in nearby Sinking Spring. Detective Capt. John Feltman said today that Hornberger orally confessed shooting his wife with a .22-caliber rifle in the kitchen of their apartment. Feltman said a homicide charge would be filed against Hornberger.

CHILD HEARD ARGUMENT

"He (Hornberger) came home," Feltman said, "and his wife accused him of running around. One thing led to another."

Feltman said that after the shooting Hornberger ran out of the apartment.

Dr. Paul D. Good, Berks County coroner, said the bullet entered the woman's left arm and penetrated the body.

Police quoted Donna Houck, 8, Mrs. Hornberger's daughter by a previous marriage, as saying that she was awake, and heard the argument from her bedroom. The two other Hornberger children, Gloria Jean, 15 months, and Scott Allen, 3 months, were asleep.

HAD BEEN LAID OFF

Donna was quoted as saying that when she went into the kitchen she found her stepfather slapping her mother about the face. The girl said she saw her stepfather run to the living room for the gun. But she told officers she did not see the actual shooting. The girl went to a neighbor's apartment and telephoned an aunt who called police.

Hornberger had been employed as a driver for a Reading laundry firm until last Tuesday when he was laid off.

USDA SUPPLIED NIXON FIGURES

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was the Agriculture Department which provided to Vice President Richard M. Nixon the statistics on which he based his criticism of Sen. John F. Kennedy's farm program.

Nixon said in a New Jersey speech Tuesday night that Kennedy's proposals would raise the nation's grocery bills by 25 per cent.

A department spokesman said no similar analysis had been made of Nixon's own farm program, but added that one would be prepared if qualified Democrats asked for it.

In attacking what he called Kennedy's "farm program of planned scarcity," Nixon said his material was prepared by "career farm and food experts." He did not identify them further.

But the Agriculture Department made available Thursday a document bearing the name of Acting Secretary True D. Morse, analyzing the farm proposals Kennedy set forth in a Sept. 22 speech at Sioux Falls, S.D.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today that, no matter what Richard M. Nixon says, in his Southern speeches he has spoken out repeatedly for civil rights.

And while he was at it, the Democratic presidential nominee challenged Nixon to say where he stands on Negro sit-ins and on a fair employment practices commission.

Nixon had said of Kennedy: "Nowhere in the South has he squarely faced up to this (civil rights) issue since his nomination. In a brilliant reply statement, Kennedy said: Although 'Mr. Nixon has recklessly charged me with failing to discuss civil rights in the South . . . I have affirmed my support of the Democratic platform and my concern that every American, regardless of race, be assured his full constitutional rights, in every Southern and every border state I have visited: North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas."

SHOW STENOGRAPHIC COPIES

Members of his staff produced stenographic copies to show what Kennedy had said, in a move to back up that statement.

Kennedy issued his statement shortly after returning here early today to rest and prepare for the second of a series of radio-television debates with Nixon.

Kennedy's main speech Thursday, a television talk in Cincinnati, dealt with Fidel Castro and Cuba.

Here he amplified an argument he has been making repeatedly: That the Eisenhower administration has bungled this problem, especially when it supported the dictator, Fulgencio Batista, "at a time when Batista was murdering thousands."

TRUCK KILLS BOY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A truck struck and killed 11-year-old William M. Shea Thursday near his Shaler Twp. home. Police said Shea darted from behind a parked truck into the path of the moving vehicle.

WELFARE NOT UP TO DECENT LIVING LEVEL

HARRISBURG (AP)—The secretary of public welfare says Pennsylvania relief grants are not up to the level of decent and healthful living.

Despite the money spent on public assistance, said Secretary Ruth G. Horting Thursday, "six out of seven persons receiving assistance grants get a third less than is needed for a low-cost level of decent and healthful living."

Mrs. Horting's comments were contained in a report on her department's operations from May 1958 through June 1960 when it spent $71,288,866. This included almost $365 million for relief.

MOST COMPREHENSIVE

Last week, Mrs. Horting reported that the public assistance program for the 1959-61 biennium was expected to run a $43 million deficit. The cost could go as high as $50 more than the appropriation, she said, depending on the case load.

"Pennsylvania's program is one of the most comprehensive in the nation, covering the needy aged and children, the needy blind and other disabled persons, and the unemployed who are unable to find work and have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits and other resources," the report said.

It added, however, that public hearings conducted by the department showed the need for constructive services to contribute to self-support, self-care, and the preservation and strengthening of family life.

BREED DEPRIVATION

"Over and over again, people testified that without adequate grants and constructive services, deprivation and disease breed deprivation and disease, and these are attended by the ever-rising cost of programs dealing with delinquency, sickness, mental illness, family breakdown, crimes, etc."

Mrs. Horting said the department needs "a vastly accelerated staff development program, as well as an important increase in

Tried Handcuffs For Size—Good Fit

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Dale Young and Tom Skeels, both 15, walked into a Muskegon surplus store and tried on a pair of handcuffs for size.

When they were firmly cuffed together the boys discovered the key to the set was missing.

The store proprietor took them to the Fire Department which cut the chain connecting them. Then the boys went home and their fathers spent several hours filing the cuffs off their wrists.

Dragged Dog Story Ends In Tragedy

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—A 62-year-old retired businessman drove away from his home unaware that his wife had tied their pet Chihuahua dog to the bumper of the car.

Hogan Clark dragged the dog several blocks Thursday before hearing its yelps.

Clark rushed the dog to a veterinarian. While the pet was being examined, Clark suffered a fatal heart attack.

The dog was not injured seriously.

the number of qualified social service staff."

She also said the state should remove "the few remaining arbitrary and artificial barriers" to public assistance, including the one-year residence requirement.

Tonight's Big Debate Is Expected To Be Livelier

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican and Democratic presidential rivals meet tonight in the second round of their televised debate, with indications it will be livelier than the first one.

Both Democrat John F. Kennedy and Republican Richard M. Nixon were relaxing here today before the hour-long session scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

Since they first met before the TV cameras and radio microphones on Sept. 26, both candidates have gotten down to more rough-and-tumble politicking than they did before the first round which many critics called a kid-gloves affair.

TOUGHER TACTICS TO SHOW

Some of the tougher tactics are expected to show up as the two square off in a television studio setting designed "to suggest a feeling of warmth and comfort."

The candidates will be questioned by a panel of four newsmen on both foreign and domestic issues. There will be no formal opening statements, as there were in the first debate. Replies to questions will be limited to 2½ minutes.

The debate will originate in the big NBC studio here and will be carried by the three TV networks and four major radio networks.

DIFFERENT SETTING

Kennedy will be on the left of the screen, Nixon on the right—as they were in the first debate in Chicago. Between them will be Frank McGee, an NBC newsmen who will be moderator. They will be seated at a large desk which curves outward like a widespread horseshoe arrangement.

Nixon and Kennedy will step to nearby lecterns to answer questions. The lecterns will be covered by grass cloth, like that covering the curved wall in the background.

The four newsmen who will question the candidates in turn will be seated at a long desk facing the standard bearers. The questioners will be Edward P. Morgan of ABC, Paul Niven of CBS, Alvin Spivak of United Press International and Hal Levy, Washington correspondent for the Long Island Newsday.

MAKEUP PROBLEMS

Many viewers said after the first debate that the studio setting looked bleak and that Nixon appeared haggard and tired. GOP national headquarters said lighting and makeup had made Nixon appear wan.

Nixon's TV adviser, Edward A. Rogers, said the type of lighting used in the Chicago debate probably will be used on the vice president tonight, but that the final decision will be up to Nixon.

Rogers also said that Stan Lawrence, a New York makeup man used previously at various times by Nixon, will apply makeup to Nixon's face to hide the beard shadow.

There was no word on whether Kennedy will use makeup. His aides said he used no makeup in the first debate, relying on a heavy tan.

SECOND GAME REVEALS NO TURNING POINT

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The second game of the World Series, won by New York Yankees over the Pittsburgh Pirates 16-3, was a game devoid of a turning point and beyond the range of second guessing.

It was just a case of one team clobbering another. There was nothing the Pirates could have done to stop the avalanche. The high points were Mickey Mantle's two tremendous home runs—which he said afterwards he wished he could have saved for a more important time.

NEAR RUTH'S RECORD

Mantle now has 13 home runs in series play, only two behind the all time record of the Yankee immortal, Babe Ruth.

With the bases loaded in the big Yankee sixth inning, Mantle lost a chance for permanent series glory when he struck out. However, his five runs batted in tied the one game series record set by Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey of the Yankees on the same day in 1936 and matched by Ted Kluszewski of the Chicago White Sox last year.

Pitcher Bob Turley of the Yankees was in trouble most of the way but managed to climb out of countless bad holes.

3-RUN SECOND HOMER

The Pirates got their first run in the fourth on the successive singles by Gino Cimoli, Smokey Burgess and a double by Don Hoak but Mantle made it 5-1 in the fifth with the first of his two big homers.

Mantle's second homer, in the seventh, added three more runs and the Yankees ran the total to 16 in the ninth on a base on balls to Mantle and double by Cletis Boyer.

The Pirates got two in the ninth but it didn't matter much. Joe Christopher was hit by a pitch and with one out Rocky Nelson singled to short right, Cimoli singled to center scoring Christopher and sending Nelson to second.

GAME-ENDING DOUBLE PLAY

Smokey Burgess smashed what might have been a double to right, but Nelson held up and went only to third with Cimoli taking second. Burgess who advanced almost to second was trapped and had to run back to first which he made safely on Richardson's wild throw. This also enabled Nelson to score.

In came Bobby Shantz to relieve Turley and got Hoak to hit into a double play.

Ex-Convict Admits Assault, Robberies In Four States

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Highway patrolmen early today arrested an Arkansas ex-convict and said he had admitted participating with two other men in a four-state foray of perhaps 100 highway robberies.

Authorities said Elton Harold Hale, 43, and two others, still at large, are believed responsible for robberies of motorists and assaults on women in California, Texas, Arizona and Arkansas.

Booked on suspicion of kidnapping, robbery, rape and sex perversion, Hale denied committing any sex offenses. Sheriff's Sgt. D. E. Ellsworth said Hale had admitted being a member of the highway gang and quoted him as saying: "I've robbed and stolen, but I've never killed anyone."

SON IS ARRESTED

Arrested with him 35 miles northeast of Los Angeles was his son, Robert, 17, who said Hale had picked him up Thursday night in Yuma, Ariz. The boy said he had been living there with an uncle since last month. Robert, one of six Hale children, was held for juvenile authorities.

The father told officers he had served 10 years for rustling and two years for burglary in the Arkansas State Penitentiary. He has been charged in Texas with highway robbery and rape.

Sgt. Ellsworth said Hale had refused to name his companions in the crimes, saying: "I'll probably have to do time for this, and I don't want to put the finger on anyone. . . . If you pick them up and they tell you, fine."

Ellsworth said, "We're confident there'll be other arrests soon." Investigators said three men in a car stopped four cars near El Paso, Tex., last Wednesday morning, assaulted one woman and escaped with about $10,000 after tying up their victims with a metal chain and securing it with a padlock.

The victims said the bandit car had told officers he and his partners did not use such equipment.

major interests but now include Asia in our study of economics, history, literature, music, the arts, languages, science, philosophy and religion. We study not only the movement of the English to America, but of the Mongols to China, the Turks to the Mediterranean, the Arabs to India. We become acquainted with the Mahabharata, the Ramayana, the poetry of Iran, the writings of Confucius, the Tao Te Ching. We study the art of India, Thailand, China and Japan, and the architecture of Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism. We recognize that more people speak Chinese than English and the need for skill in using Chinese, Japanese, Hindi, Urdu and Arabic, as well as French and German and Russian. In philosophy we come to know something of the thought of Ghazali, Nagarjuna, Sankara, Ramana, Mencius and Chuang Tze.

PRACTICAL RESULTS

"In this study we seek only to understand their point of view; we avoid sweeping generalizations and we avoid the comparisons which only reveal our provincial sense of superiority.

"And what is the result of such study? There are the practical results which can be claimed for any liberal education: The ability to think more clearly, to analyze problems, imaginative approaches to new situations. In addition our horizons are widened, we become more sensitive as individuals. Chiefly, however, we get a new perspective on ourselves, we are forced to evaluate our standards in the light of different standards, freed to view our culture and our beliefs from outside our provincial community and to decide what we believe."

The amount allocated to each agency is the exact amount it needs to provide its services for the year. A general contingency fund is then added to the Community Chest budget so there will be some funds available in case of need by any agency during the year. As a result the total for the Community Chest campaign is lower than would be the total if each agency had to conduct its own drive, pay its own campaign expenses and establish its own contingency fund in addition to securing operating funds.

2 KILLED IN 3-CAR CRASH

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three cars crashed on the Schuylkill Expressway just outside the city Thursday night, killing two persons and injuring two others.

Killed were Volney H. Rhodes, 18, a Coast Guardsman attached to the Training Station at Cape May, N.J., and Frank R. Elder, 71, of West Cape May, N.J., driver of the taxicab in which Rhodes was riding.

Injured were Richard W. Kuback, 52, of Gladwynne, Pa., who suffered a broken right leg, and Cesar Trinidad, 26, also attached to the Cape May station, who suffered severe scalp cuts and multiple bruises. Trinidad also was in the taxi.

State police said the taxi left the eastbound lane and crossed a median strip, sideswiping one car and hitting the other behind it head on. Kuback was riding along in his car.

Trinidad told police he and Rhodes had hired the cab for the day. Trinidad had visited Schwenksville and Rhodes had stopped off in Bethlehem. They were on their way back to Cape May when the accident occurred.

TOKYO (AP)—I'll never do that again—park in a no parking zone in Japan. The price you pay is too high.

I know now, 3 days, 5 hours and 25 minutes of frustration later.

It seemed so ordinary that day it began.

STARTED WITH A SMILE

Into the Marunouchi Police Station I marched smiling and genial—waving the ticket I had found under the windshield wiper of my ancient vehicle.

"Now if you'll just tell me where I can pay my fine," I suggested.

"Name please," said a stern-looking desk sergeant. "Age. Where do you live? Driver's license. Married? Children? How long have you been in Japan? Foreign registration card."

ANOTHER START

I gave them all. "Now about that fine," I started hopefully again.

The sergeant studied the documents in front of him. He was pretty quiet. I was confident the wheels of justice were turning.

"You were illegally parked!" he announced triumphantly.

I had that same general impression, too. My smile was a little weaker now. The enormity of my crime was sinking in.

"If you'll tell me where to pay the fine," I began again.

"You must go to Summary Court," came the shattering announcement.

"In America," I started to say. "This is Japan," he smiled.

3-DAY WAIT

CHAPTER II—The Trial. Time—three days later. Setting—2 hours and 20 traffic-congested miles from the scene of the crime, a tiny, placid-looking building designed to accommodate about 25 persons. Additional details—about 5,000 equally criminal types jammed inside, waiting to pay their debt to society.

I tramped over a few hundred bodies getting to a seat I was motioned to in front of another policeman. He was menacingly armed with forms, charts, paper, pencil, pen and law books.

"You can speak Japanese?" he asked.

FINALLY GUILTY

"A little," I said. We stumbled through the life history of my crime again.

"You shouldn't have parked there," he finally said reproachfully.

I couldn't have agreed more. "Now about the fine," I said.

"Sign your name in Japanese characters here," he said, thrusting a pen at me.

That did it.

"I can't write in characters," I said.

The wheels of justice came to a full stop.

"Then we must send you to the prosecutor's office," he announced. "It's over on the other side of town. They'll summon you in three or four months for trial."

PAST RECORD

Visions of indictments, bold headlines in my hometown newspaper, and a cancelled home leave in America swam before my eyes. Then I really put my foot in it.

"Yes," I answered when the officer asked if I'd ever had a traffic violation before. "Umpteen years ago I passed in a no passing zone."

His jaw dropped in amazement. A deep silence settled over the room. The policeman removed his glasses for a better look at this hardened foreign criminal.

SPECIAL CASE

Hurried conferences with his superiors followed.

"We'll try you here," the policeman stated.

I was left in a jammed, squirming mass of humanity waiting outside the courtroom—a 6-foot-2 Geijun, or foreigner, towering over a sea of men about 5 feet tall.

NOT GUILTY

"He's guilty," I knew they were thinking. "It must have been terrible crime."

After a long wait someone tapped me on the shoulder. The officer who had questioned me said: "We've decided that you won't have to be tried after all."

"That's fine," I beamed. "now if you'll tell me where to pay—"

"That won't be necessary," he said sternly. "You can go now."

I was a free but wiser man, determined never to sin again.

Driver Mistakes Sidewalk For Road

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — Making his rounds in downtown Liberal early one morning, night patrolman Jack Call heard a noise behind him.

Call looked back to see a small foreign-made car stalking him—on the sidewalk.

The driver, Jim Ulmer, was booked for reckless driving and forfeited $50 bond in police court.

CAMPAIGN WITH A KICK?

CINCINNATI (AP) — The reference card for Judge John W. Keefe's election campaign account came back from the bank stamped, "Judge Keefe Campaign Committee."

Committee Treasurer Roger Anderson said: "We wish to assure all prospective contributors that we really are running an election campaign—not a drinking bout."

WALLFLOWERS OF '59 ARE IN DEMAND NOW ON WALL ST.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Effects of the changes in stock market atmosphere and of the drop in interest rates under impact of the easy money policy are showing up today in the habits of American investors and savers.

Even the much praised and self-satisfied sophisticated investor is rediscovering charms in some of last year's wallflowers.

A lot of glamor dust has been shaken out of the stock market this year. Investors are finding it less appealing as a road to quick riches. And there is less talk now about stocks as a hedge against inflation.

REVERSAL OF TRENDS

The big drop in interest rates in the short-term and medium-term securities and investments have returned status to some of the slow but sure ways of saving, where the interest rate is less fluctuating.

The change in saving habits shows up in many ways today—in saving bond sales, in mutual fund sales, in regular monthly purchases of common stocks, in repayment of installment loans.

It isn't a big change. But it is the reversal of previous trends that interests lenders and borrowers alike. And the change also sheds light on economic trends and business prospects.

For five months in a row sales of U. S. savings bonds have been higher and redemptions lower than in the like months of 1959.

The U. S. Treasury reports cash-ins of savings bonds in September were 16 per cent less than a year ago. The September sale of E and H Bonds topped the year-ago figure by 13 per cent.

The Treasury savings bond chief is especially interested in the recent gains in sales of the higher denominations of the bonds. He thinks this means the sophisticated investor is being attracted now.

The reason: The 3½ per cent rate of return on these bonds now equals or tops the yield available on comparable medium-term Treasury issues traded in the open market. A year ago the market yield on these marketable issues ran as high as 4½ per cent.

MUTUAL FUNDS WORRIED

Until recently the sophisticated investor turned up his nose at savings bonds—their yield was comparatively low, and inflation pared even that return over the years they were held.

But whether they like to admit it or not, most Americans with a few dollars to save now and then don't consider themselves sophisticated investors and have not the time it takes to remain one. Most of them have gone along with their payroll deduction plans for savings bonds.

Weakness in the stock market has worried the mutual funds. But their net assets increased this August, compared with either July or August, 1959, the National Association of Investment Companies reports.

The second in the series of joint TV appearances by candidates Kennedy and Nixon takes place tonight (7:30-8:30 Eastern Daylight Time) and will be seen on the three major networks. The third is Thursday night, same time, same places. The World Series will be broadcast daily starting at 12:45 p.m. by NBC—except Sunday, when the game starts at 1:45.

There are a number of other items worthy of attention during the period, too. There is tonight's cancer benefit honoring Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, 9-10 on NBC, with so many stars lined up there isn't room to list them. There is also the debut of CBS' new "Route 66," an adventure series (8:30-9:30) and its "Mr. Garlund," more of the same (9:30-10), and ABC's "The Law and Mrs. Jones," a series about an idealistic lawyer.

SATURDAY HIGH SPOT

"Just Polly and Me," a CBS special musical revenue starring Phil Silver and Polly Bergen, is the high spot of Saturday night (8:30-9:30). On Sunday there's the CBS Jackie Gleason special, "The Big Sell" (9-10) heralded as a satire on the great American salesman. In addition, the Shirley Temple show will do a Mark Twain adaptation called "Tom and Huck" (NBC, 7-8 p.m.) with David Ladd playing Tom and Teddy Rooney, Huck. And Dinah Shore starts her season (NBC, 9-10) with Red Skelton, Nat King Cole and Tuesday Weld as guests. ABC has "Morning Court" making its debut Monday (11 a.m.) and CBS' "Bringing Up Buddy," a situation comedy, bows in that night (8:30-9). And there is also NBC's new frozen north adventure series, "Klondike," starting at 9.

Tuesday there is the season's debut of "CBS Reports" (8-9 p.m.) with Edward R. Murrow reporting on the atomic submarine. "The Donald O'Connor Show," a song-and-dance special, appears on NBC, 10-11.

Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy bring in their new NBC situation comedy, "Peter Loves Mary," Wednesday evening (10-10:30) and ABC has its new "Naked City," a story about New York police, starting at the same time. Meanwhile, Sid Caesar will guest with Perry Como (NBC, 9-10) and CBS' Circle Theater (10-11) will tell the story of Nazi Adolph Eichmann. On Thursday, "The Untouchables" (ABC, 9:30-10:30) will start its new season with "The Rusty Heller Story," alleged to follow the career of Virginia Hill of Kefauver committee notoriety.

EDDIE FISHER TO PRODUCE ANN KARENINA

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Edwin Fisher, the producer, is in town for talks with major studio heads prior to setting up a multi-million-dollar deal.

Don't recognize him? Take another look. It's Eddie Fisher, star of records, TV and newspapers. Eddie hasn't really changed. I found him sipping his old-time favorite cola in a Beverly Hills hotel suite. Before he started talking business, he switched to tea. He's still on London time, he said sleepily, as well as London habits.

What's this about his turning producer?

"It's not unusual these days," he replied. "Most performers get into the production field now. I produced my television show, and I was always interested in the production end of our business." For his first project, Eddie is tackling "Anna Karenina," starring, naturally, his wife, Elizabeth Taylor. He said he has seen the Garbo talkie version (she also did it as a silent called "Love") and the less successful Vivien Leigh portrayal of 1948. He is also wading through the Tolstoy novel and keeps a copy by his bed.

"David Selznick wanted Jennifer Jones to do it, but she didn't want to follow Garbo," Eddie said. "When Elizabeth and I saw the Garbo version in London, I was afraid she'd feel the same way. But she was eager to do it. She'll be magnificent in the role."

"I've had some fabulous offers for deals at studios. We might even film it in Russia—if our relations with Russia would permit it. I wouldn't want to do anything that would be against the government's wishes."

Travel is something we would all like to do but often time and the family budget impose limitations. However, homemakers can acquaint their families with many different countries culinary efforts. How is this possible? Simple. One or two nights each month, plan your menu around the foods of certain countries. Set a date, inform the family and let them know that on a certain night they will be indulging in foreign fare. It can be fun as well as a learning process. There is no sense in placing a dent in the family food budget so let's go on a thrifty cook's tour. Yes, it is possible! As a starter for this culinary excursion, let's take a trip over the rugged Pyrenees into the sunny climate of Spain. As we find "hot dogs" as the main picnic fare at American baseball games, in Spain, we look to the Espanola Burger as the luncheon repast before the bull fights.

You might like to keep this idea on hand for a Saturday lunch or Sunday supper treat. You might call it your Spanish quickie since the preparation time is so short. To begin with, the burgers are made just like a regular American hamburger. Shape 1½ pounds of ground beef into six patties on a broiler rack. Insert the broiler pan and rack allowing two inches between the heat and surface of the meat. Broil the patties on one side until brown, about seven minutes. Season with salt

Navy Veteran Invents New "Instant" Language

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

As man speeds faster and faster into the jet age, and the world grows smaller and smaller, the language barriers that divide nations come every day under heavier assault.

For a long time, almost from the start of the industry, records have played a large part in bulldozing down the language barrier. Even in the heyday of the old 78-speed record, language discs enjoyed a wide popularity, although the amount of material that could be contained on a set of records was necessarily limited.

Now, with long playing records outselling all other kinds for the first time in the history of the recording business, the language business is definitely on the boom.

Have Taught Thousands
Companies like Berlitz, Living Languages, Dover and Cortina have taught thousands of tourists, businessmen, diplomats and housewives to converse in a variety of foreign languages without venturing out of their living rooms.

Language records have an immense advantage over college courses for the simple reason that the student can go back to the original material as often as he desires or requires.

The main disadvantage of any language record, of course, is that material is necessarily limited to what is contained on the record and in the accompanying manual. In addition, language records concentrate heavily on conversational words and phrases and seldom go very deeply into grammar, the real foundation of any language.

Changes System
But a newcomer in the field called "Instant Languages" makes a brave attempt at changing the whole system.

The "Instant Languages" series, put out under the Pickwick label, is the brain child of 27-year old Lewis Robbins of New York City, a former Navy enlisted man who taught the Navy new ways of teaching Morse Code and typing and now has applied the same system to foreign languages.

Robbins is not a linguist or, for that matter, even a teacher. He is, for want of a better title, a deep thinker about learning processes. His system, called Reinforced Learning, is based on psychological principles laid down by Professors Fred Keller of Columbia University and B. F. Skinner of Harvard. In brief, the system employs the principle that responses to stimuli which receive reinforcement are strengthened; those that don't are weakened and eventually extinguished.

Gives Example

Robbins gives the example of a man confronted with two vending machines, one red, the other green. When a coin is inserted in the red machine, nothing happens (absence of reinforcement). When a coin is put in the green machine, a candy bar drops out (reinforcement). The next time the man sees the same two machines he will automatically choose the green one because his response (putting in the coin) to the stimulus (presence of the machine) has been strengthened

(by the candy bar).

Uses Psychology

Carrying this principle into his language records, Robbins minimizes memory work in favor of a happy psychological reaction. The instructor's voice (stimulus) calls out a foreign word or phrase. There is a pause while the student tries to guess at the meaning and jots his answer down on a piece of paper (response). Then the instructor gives the answer. If the student is correct in his guess, his response is reinforced immediately by hearing the answer and he remembers it. If not, he goes on to the next word or phrase.

In a list of 10 words or phrases, he may get only one or two correct—perhaps none—but when he tries a second time, he finds himself getting six or seven, and, on the third try, probably all correct.

Robbins' reinforced learning system taught Navy yeomen to type after only 10 hours of instruction, compared with 30 hours under the standard system, and cut the Morse Code course from several weeks to five hours.

Adams Countians Have Big Stake In Fire Prevention Work; Half Million Loss

Adams Countians have a big stake in fire prevention—more than $200,000,000 in property, not counting the lives of nearly 52,000 countians and the more than a million tourists who visit them each year.

Countians generally were more "fire conscious" this year than last, firemen believe, although two major fires in the county, plus a number of others, boosted the total fire loss to $542,521 for the period August to August during which County Fire Marshal John Murren keeps his reports.

The loss was the largest in a number of years and included $266,975 property loss plus $275,546 loss in contents of the structures were burned.

INSURANCE HELPED

Gettysburg firemen have responded to 45 calls during the first nine months of this year and other firemen throughout the county have been called to approximately a similar number of alarms.

During the 12 months of 1959 the Gettysburg firemen responded to 83 alarms, or seven more than the 76 recorded in 1958.

Insurance helped pay the loss in the fires to which Gettysburg firemen responded in 1958, the 90 fall and spring. And sometimes they went to in 1957, the 57 calls to which they responded in 1956, the 90 in 1955, the 96 in 1954 and the 102 in 1953.

MANY PREVENTABLE

Fire Chief Francis I. Linn and Fire Marshal Donald Jacobs here join with firemen throughout the country in declaring that most fires could be prevented through closer attention to elimination of fire hazards.

Every home and business has fire hazards that could be eliminated by closer scrutiny of the structures and more attention to fire safety precautions.

Linn and Jacobs said they made the statement "despite the fact that people generally are becoming more fire hazard conscious."

BONFIRES DANGEROUS

The overloaded electrical outlet is becoming less a source of danger as home owners install more and better connections. "But there still are thousands of them causing a threat throughout the community," they added.

One problem that continues is the bonfire, usually aggravated in the fall when leaves constitute a problem.

Normally firemen can anticipate a rash of calls from bonfire fires in the fall and spring. And sometimes the damage is to more than

Fire Facts

1,000,000 or more fires occur every year.

11,600* or more persons die every year; an untold number are seriously injured, burned or maimed for life every year.

$1,000,000,000 or more in property is damaged or destroyed every year—$1,275,000,000 in 1959.

In 1959, fire struck nearly every 30 seconds, 3,000 times a day, every day.

*Average for last 10 years.

weeds and grass when valuable trees or buildings get in the way of the bonfire-ignited grass blaze. Last year firemen here were called to 53 grass fires.

CONSIDER ORDINANCE

Gettysburg Borough Council is considering a bonfire ordinance, but in the meantime the only control locally is the state law prohibiting bonfires after dark and the caution exercised by those who may start the bonfires to eliminate trash.

What can happen to the community and the individual from careless handling of bonfires was shown several years ago when a bonfire spread to mountain land near here and destroyed a number of acres of timber. Authorities in the area had banned bonfires and as a result the offending person received a bill for the entire cost of fighting the blaze and the loss in timber—a bill for several thousand dollars.

Matches and youngsters still prove a combination that can cause great fire loss and the chimney, while declining as a source of fire, continues a menace. Local firemen were called to 10 chimney fires last year.

The overloaded basement and attic continue to be dangerous and the carelessly handled cigarette is still one of the greatest causes for fire loss.

MORE FIRE CONSCIOUS

Storage of volatile liquids such as gasoline still constitutes a danger but storage away from other materials can keep loss at a minimum if fires do occur.

Firemen noted that even an explosion of gasoline, as occurred in a recent farm fire near here, can cause little damage when the fuel, as it was on that farm, is located in a special building some distance from other structures and thus cannot spread to cause greater damage.

The marshal and chief pleaded with people of the area to be "just a little more fire conscious. Make periodic inspections. Re-

RED CLAIMS OF VICTORY PREMATURE

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

The United States is hurting a bit from its brush with the neutralists, but the Communists are premature in jubilantly claiming a victory.

This jubilation could boomerang and help turn an apparent American setback into another Communist defeat.

The Communists are in a poor position during this session of the U.N. General Assembly to point with pride. They grabbed eagerly at the neutralists' disappointment with the United States and made it plain to all in the Assembly that they feel triumphant about it.

MAJOR MISTAKE

This looks like a major Communist mistake.

The Soviet bloc may impress the original five neutralist nations, who sponsored the proposal for a meeting of President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev, with claims of an American defeat. But they are doing something else.

The Asian and African nations who voted along with the neutralists are passionately jealous of their position of independence between the two great power blocs, Communist and Western.

WON'T BE OWNED

By jumping for joy and crying victory, the Communists turned a spotlight on themselves and probably aroused misgivings among the Africans.

These African nations are in no mood to be claimed by the Communists as allies in a victory against the United States. They saw what went on in the former Belgian Congo from the moment of its independence. They took due note of Soviet interference there. They proved their attentiveness by overwhelming support of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's activities there to restore order in the face of violent Soviet-Communist attack.

LESS THAN NEUTRAL

The five so-called neutral nations who sponsored the U.S.-Soviet summit resolution have acted somewhat less than neutrally on many an issue. President Tito of Yugoslavia, maverick Communist though he may be, has gone down the line all the way for Soviet proposals at this session. Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana has indicated more than a little sympathy for the Communist argument in the Congo. Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic is deeply involved with the U.S.S.R. and often has exhibited hostility to the West. President Sukarno of Indonesia is being advised by the chief of the Indonesian Communist party who traveled to the United States with him. Prime Minister Nehru of India supports the Communists on the issue of Red China's membership and some others, although the West considers him basically a friend.

Gifts were received by the guest of honor and refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Riffle, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Riffle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Ecker, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Riffle, Mrs. Grace Carbaugh, Mrs. Rhoda Dayhoff, Mildred Ecker, Susan and Tommy Riffle, David Warehime, Pamela Mitchell, Linda and Terry Riffle and Vernon Buck and friend Barbara.

CHECK ON FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Check your fire extinguishers! That was the fire prevention word given today by Gettysburg Fire Marshal Donald Jacobs.

He had good reason for the order. In at least three fires to which Gettysburg firemen responded this year those on the scene saw the blaze start and grabbed fire extinguishers—only to find they did not work. As a result the blaze was more serious than it might have been.

Jacobs estimated there are "more than 1,000" fire extinguishers in schools, business places, homes and factories in the area. Schools make regular inspections, but "there are far too many sitting around that haven't been looked at for years," Jacobs said.

He urged everyone to observe fire prevention week by checking the date their extinguisher was last serviced. If the date is over a year old it is time to refill the extinguisher. Those who may need assistance in refilling extinguishers are asked to contact Jacobs at the engine house here.

President Tito of Yugoslavia, maverick Communist though he may be, has gone down the line all the way for Soviet proposals at this session. Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana has indicated more than a little sympathy for the Communist argument in the Congo. Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic is deeply involved with the U.S.S.R. and often has exhibited hostility to the West. President Sukarno of Indonesia is being advised by the chief of the Indonesian Communist party who traveled to the United States with him. Prime Minister Nehru of India supports the Communists on the issue of Red China's membership and some others, although the West considers him basically a friend.

Unique School Offers New Hope To Unfortunate Girls

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rose, barely 16 and unmarried, was expecting a baby. The tragedy was compounded by circumstances. She was the youngest of 14 children of a family never far from misfortune and want. Her father, retired, hardly knew where the next dollar was coming from. Her mother was arthritic and the victim of a nervous disorder.

Several brothers and sisters had been in trouble with the police. Some were in correctional schools.

Help Impossible
Help from Rose's partner in parenthood was out of the question. Not much older than Rose, the boy was equally scared and insolvent.

But soon after the baby was born, Rose heard of a new school for unmarried teen-age mothers.

The school, non-sectarian and interracial, has been described as one of the most constructive projects in education anywhere. To Rose, it meant salvation.

Remarkable Progress
She couldn't bring herself to go back to high school. She felt cut off from the free and easy association with her old classmates. But at the same time she was eager to learn.

At the special school, Rose got ahead so fast that one of her teachers said "such remarkable headway even with one girl makes the whole effort really worthwhile."

The school, now a part of 61-year-old Berean Institute, is a team project shared in by city, state, church and welfare groups.

Highly Praised
More than a year old, it has been praised by national leaders in education and sociology. Its sponsors believe there is none like it in the country.

It provides both vocational and academic instruction to 22 girls. The enrollment would be greater if space permitted.

Each school day the girls—their age range 14 to 17—show up at 9:30 with their babies.

Medical Program
Committees were drawn up to develop a medical program, determine admission policy and set educational standards. They defined four basic goals: To train the mothers to look after their babies properly; to provide day care services for the babies; to give the mothers vocational education, and to help them with personal and family problems.

It was decided to take in only girls between 14 and 17 whose babies were no more than a year old.

The school opened with three students. Soon it had seven. Because of the late start, the school kept going right through the summer without losing a girl. In the fall 16 enrolled. Others came in later. Only a few have dropped out. Their places were filled quickly from a waiting list.

Deep Faith
It is too soon, says Taber, to assess the full impact and value of the program, "but we hold deep faith in it."

"Already we have noted a healthier relationship between the mothers and their babies, and between the young mothers and their families," he says. "We have seen anti-social feelings dissolve and a happier approach to life replace them."

Most of these girls, Taber continues, are victims of economic conditions, of squalor, penury and ignorance. Nearly all have had low grade sex education, sometimes no more than a mother's warning, "Don't bring any babies home."

Salable Skills
"Now the girls are developing a sense of responsibility," Taber says. "They take pride in motherhood. They are acquiring salable skills. We make them feel wanted and worthwhile."

Taber and his associates reason that a girl ought to stay in the school at least two years. When the children are three years old they will be eligible to go into the city's child care centers. Then the mothers can get jobs and become self-supporting.

Courses include health, hygiene and child care, beauty culture, shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, accounting, secretarial training, dressmaking, tailoring, millinery, citizenship, mathematics, English,

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Gen. Henry Martyn Robert, a devout Christian who built the great sea wall at Galveston, Tex., possessed the methodical mind of an engineer. He was dismayed at the disorder that prevailed at public meetings, particularly those of his church, for there was no standard procedure to govern assemblies in the late 19th Century. And so he devoted many years to perfecting Robert's Rules of Order, which are still in use today. Gen. Robert helped finance publication of his book and devoted the profits of a later book to medical missions. He once refused payment for a college lecture saying: "I have had all the compensation I expect or desire in the consciousness that I have done what I could to stimulate the students to study the Bible. A man who knows anything is in debt to those who are less fortunate and he can only pay the debt by imparting the knowledge."

Letter To The Editor

UNITED SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS, INC.

The Editor
Gettysburg Times
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Editor:

The Anchorage USO Club at Anchorage, Alaska, was a scene of festivity during the occasion of a visit made to the club by several York and Adams County tourists. The evening was set aside as a Pennsylvania State Night because we know of many servicemen at both Elmendorf Air Force Base and at Fort Richardson Army Base who are from Pennsylvania. These young men were anxious to meet some folks from their home territory, especially since Alaska is generally thought of as being "overseas." These good people had come all the way from southeastern Pennsylvania on a bus. The tour was conducted by the Lincoln Bus Tours of Hanover.

Two of the ladies in the party contributed much time and culinary talent to the success of Pennsylvania State Night. Mrs. Gotwald, of York, and Mrs. Jacobs, of East Berlin, both excellent cooks, were in charge in the USO kitchen. Mrs. Gotwald became famous in Anchorage for her homemade bread. Mrs. Jacobs is an expert pie maker. The military personnel who imbibed of the pies and homemade bread made in the USO kitchen will remember for a long time how good that home cooking smelled and tasted. Part of the program was the food element, but just meeting folks from Pennsylvania was what counted. The most important thing about the State Night was that Pennsylvanians had a good get together.

Mrs. Jacobs, who lives in East Berlin, got a glimmer in her eye everytime she would answer the question, "Where are you from?" She would smile and say, "I am from Gettysburg, the home of the President." Later a serviceman said to me, "Did she say she was from East Berlin?" I said, "Yes, that she was from East Berlin." His answer was that he had been there too, and wondered if she had any trouble getting out. The young man had forgotten that she meant East Berlin, Pennsylvania. He had been to East Berlin, Germany! Perhaps that was why she was glad to state that she was from Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The Anchorage USO wishes there were more volunteers like the ones from Pennsylvania. We hope that more tourists from the York-Gettysburg area will come to Alaska and will visit the USO in Anchorage where a warm welcome awaits them.

Sincerely,
Nan Myers

history, music and science.

The school has a nursery. The young mothers pass the first half hour with their babies and nurses—three in all—who give guidance.

The pupils attend, all told, five 45-minute classes before the 3:30 p.m. dismissal time. This comes to nearly as much instruction time as they would get in regular high school.

The teaching is done by a staff of eight, some of it supplied under the board of education's extension program. The staff includes a social worker who concentrates on improving the girls' home environment. A doctor examines babies and mothers periodically.

Clergyman Founder
The school is the brainchild of the Rev. William H. Gray Jr., a Baptist clergyman and a former college president.

Distressed by the ever increasing number of girls quitting public school because of illegitimate babies, Dr. Gray cast about for a sound solution to the problem. One day at a board of education citizenship meeting the talk turned to what could be done for unwed mothers. One of the most interested was Robert Taber, director of pupil personnel and counseling.

"Talk's fine," said Taber, "But what we need to do is get moving."

"I couldn't agree more," replied Dr. Gray.

They went to the Seybert Institute, a charitable foundation, and asked for money to start an experimental, or demonstration, school.

The institute granted them $10,000 a year for three years. A little later the Philadelphia Foundation gave $3,000. The state granted $60,000 for two years. Dr. Gray was named chairman of the board of trustees.

Ellis Clary, Washington Senator coach, led the Florida State League in stolen bases with 61 in 1937.

Experts Select Exciting World-wide Wonderlands To Satisfy Wanderlust

By The Associated Press

As the globe shrinks and the tourist crop burgeons, one question keeps coming up: Are there any unspoiled places left in the world for the discerning traveler to discover?

Associated Press bureaus around the world have gone to work on the problem and come up with a list of delightful sites not worn smooth by tourist tread. Some are restful, some are exciting—all are beautiful.

Here are their nominations:

Spain

Few tourists have seen one of Spain's most attractive spots: the 14th Century Carthusian Monastery of El Paular, 40 miles north of Madrid. Monks take in guests at modest prices. The monastery is in a valley in the heart of the towering Guadarrama Mountains. You get there by turning right at Navacerrada Pass off the Madrid-Segovia highway and driving through a thick pine forest. There's probably no more restful, pleasant weekend to be found anywhere.

France

In the heart of Paris a tourist can step back into the 17th Century by making a short walk to the Place des Vosges. Few do, however, because it's off the beaten path and the government strictly forbids construction of latter-day tourist attractions here. Buildings have peaked eaves and roofs with facades of white stone and brick. Around the square's sides is an arcade housing once-fashionable shops.

Germany

To enjoy uncrowded scenery during a continental holiday, take a trip down the Moselle Valley during the fall wine harvest. Leave your car at the river and walk a couple of miles through beautiful forests to Eltz, 900-year-old, many-towered castle. Or take a night walk along the timbered houses of Bernkastel's market square or the centuries-old town wall of Beilstein. Your trip to discover little known parts of romantic Germany is less than 150 miles, from Coblenz to Trier—but take three days to do it justice.

In late spring, a tour along the scenic Main River can give you a thrilling view of medieval art. Start in Aschaffenburg, wind up in Würzburg, with a side trip to the moated castle of Mespelbrunn in the rolling Spessart hills. Along the river visit churches in inconspicuous villages to see masterpieces of woodcarving.

Denmark

The fortress of Trelleborg, a retreat built by King Sven Forkbeard, father of Canute who ruled England, lies 60 miles west of Copenhagen. The fortress disappeared, but modern research found enough evidence to reconstruct it pretty much like it was in the days of the roistering Vikings. A tourist feels a deep sense of history in this spot, so off-trail few Danes get around to visiting it.

Italy

Val Rosandra is a tortuous 1½-mile long valley in the northern corner of Italy that is credited with possibly having inspired Dante's description of Hell. Honeycombed with ravines and caverns, the Val Rosandra has grotesque cliffs and rocks that rise 100 feet. Tourists can reach it in little more than an hour by bus or auto from Trieste.

Only a few hardy adventurers have discovered the beauty of the Tremiti Islands—San Domino, San Nicola and Capraia—about 10 miles off the spur of the Italian boot. The largest—two square miles—is San Domino, known as "The Capri of the Adriatic"; it has a fishing village of 400 people. There are no hotel facilities on the islands, but private boarding houses takes visitors. Small ships from Manfredonia and Tremoli dock several times a week.

Greece

Pylos, a serene townlet on the southwestern coast of the Peloponnese, nestles at the entrance of a landlocked bay. Nearby is the 3,000-year-old palace of King Nestor. You can stay in a small but new and modern hotel on the brink of the bluest of seas. You can get there by driving through ancient Sparta and Byzantine Mystra and the mighty Mount Taygetos. Visit it this year or next to avoid the crowds. The new road was built last summer, and the charming seascape will soon be discovered by tourists.

Cyprus

A visitor to the small seaport of Kyrenia on the north coast of Cyprus can see its history at a glance. Over the harbor rise the ramparts of a Crusader's castle, minarets of Turkish mosques and buildings recently occupied by British administrators. Its little harbor is filled with sailboats and fishing craft. Picturesque, varicolored houses stand over the waterfront. Like a backdrop, the Kyrenia range hovers in the sky, its ruins of a medieval abbey and a precariously perched castle hidden from the town itself. Kyrenia's attractions are beauty, quietness, the climate, crystal-clear sea and friendly people.

Turkey

Antalya is a virtually unknown gem of the Mediterranean. The few Western visitors have called it "The Turkish Riviera." Behind Antalya are the Taurus Mountains, towering dramatically over the little harbor and the blue sea. Nearby are some of the most impressive, although practically unknown, ruins of Greco-Roman antiquity. Antalya is not developed to accommodate many tourists, but it can offer a few adequate hotels, good restaurants, cheap prices.

Lebanon

Nearly every tourist visits the ruins of the Roman temples at Baalbek, or the ski resorts at the Cedars. But Lebanon has out-of-the-way attractions, such as the grotto of Jeita (or Ghita), 12 miles north of Beirut, where visitors can take a boatride on a large underground lake. Farther along the coast is a pleasant hill-top village, Rachana, with a breathtaking view of sea and plains, and an outdoor museum of modern sculpture.

Japan

A scene of blissful serenity awaits the tourist on Miyajima, one of the lovely islands dotting Japan's winding Inland Sea. A huge, orange, camphor-wood Torii gate stands a short distance offshore. It is the entrance to Itsukushima shrine which extends out over the sea from the island and seems to float on the dancing waves. Priests keep alive ancient Shinto rites and dances, the bugaku and kagura. For a fee which helps maintain the shrine, they will sway through these rituals in the masks and rich costumes on display daily in the shrine's morning prayer room.

Uruguay

Too few travelers to Montevideo, charming capital of Uruguay, ever see much of the beauty of the country's beaches. They stretch for hundreds of miles—all the way to the Brazilian border. Punta del Este is the best known of the beach towns, but others are equally pleasant and not so crowded. Solis or Atlantida, both less than a 1½ hour drive from Montevideo, have golf, beautiful sand beaches and peace and quiet. Rooms at their best hotels run around $5 a day, including all meals.

Argentina

Nestling at the foot of the towering Andes is the charming and picturesque town of Bariloche. Long a popular summer spot for Argentines, it is nonetheless relatively unknown to the average tourist. Most do not take the time for the 3½ hour plans trip from Buenos Aires. Bariloche looks like a Swiss village plunked down in southwestern Argentina, with tall, snow-tipped mountains, deep blue lakes and forest green-

As you probably already know from reading the recipe, veal riblets are considered a less-tender meat cut. They therefore, require long, slow cooking. The method used, of course, is braising. When braising any type of meat cut, remember to use a low temperature. The braising liquid should never boil. The long cooking not only helps to make the meat tender and palatable, it also chance to blend flavors. This is most important in a dish such as Special Veal Riblets.

Old World Astors Yearn To See Rich American Cousins

By REINHOLD ENZ

WALLDORF, Germany (AP)—The Astors of Walldorf have a fond wish. They would like very much to see the Waldorf Astoria Hotel and their rich city cousins—the Astors of London and New York.

But the Walldorf Astors aren't holding out much hope. Relations between the two branches of the family have been getting cooler ever since the most famous Astor of all, Johann Jakob Astor, trudged out of this dusty farming village in 1780.

Johann Jakob, or John Jacob as he later called himself, first went to London and then to New York, where fur trading and real estate turned him into one of the world's richest men.

FATHER A BUTCHER

According to local accounts, he came back to Walldorf, where his father was a butcher, only once. And the villagers made the mistake of annoying him. It seems that he deliberately came back in simple clothes, despite his wealth, of which the villagers had not heard.

They poked fun at him and jeeringly suggested that he was probably glad to be back home. Astor, so the story goes, got so annoyed that he stomped out of the village. But he soon came back—riding in a magnificent coach and accompanied by a platoon of servants.

Since then, the history of the Walldorf Astors has more or less been that of poor country cousins. Countless letters have gone out from Walldorf to the big city, but without much result.

WEALTHY COUSINS

A spokesman for the New York Astors has said the German Astors and their complaints "are like a lot of families where someone is sore about their cousins who made money."

"There is nothing special for us in the coincidence of the name," adds A. W. Betts of the Astor Foundation.

Sixteen families in Walldorf—which now has a population of 7,000—proudly bear the name Astor. The families claim to be descendants of Johann Jakob's cousins, who stayed in the village while he was getting rich in America. Numerous other Walldorf families carefully preserve ancient records showing they also have Astor blood.

PROUDEST CITIZEN

Walldorf's proudest citizens, and perhaps one of its bitterest, is a 59-year-old retired policeman named Johann Jakob Astor.

"I have the same name and I look just like the original Johann Jakob," he boasts. "Look at my nose, it's just like the one in his portrait in the Rathaus (town hall)."

Johann's bitterness has a number of grounds. The chief one is the fact that his 77-year-old uncle, Jakob Astor of Karlsruhe, never got to America, although everything had been arranged.

SENT BOAT TICKET

"In 1938," Johann reports, "the Astors in New York sent my uncle a ship ticket after much correspondence. But then he had an accident while riding a bicycle and his departure was delayed. Then came the war."

"Nothing has happened since the war. He has spent a lot of money on postage but it has been useless. He has got to the point where he doesn't every the any more.

"He has told me that when he dies, I will inherit his file of correspondence and then I can reopen the correspondence with New York. He has been keeping a file of all the newspaper articles he can find about the London and New York Astors. He said I can have this file too."

But Johann isn't certain whether he will write to New York.

"I have the feeling," he says, "that the Astors over here do not think as much about the original Johann Jakob Astor as we do, although it is him they must thank for their present positions."

"But you must also understand their situation. They are like the man who wins 500,000 marks in the lottery. Suddenly, all his relatives are on his neck."

Astor Banquet

When John Jacob died in 1848, he left the village $50,000 for the construction and maintenance of a free home for the poor. The home is still in use today—as an apartment house for low income families.

In 1937 the Nazis took the house over and turned it into a barracks for members of the Bund Deutscher Maedchen (BDM), a Nazi organization for teen-age girls. BDM girls were pledged to bear children "for the Fuehrer," especially those of SS men and high Nazi officials.

The conversion of the Astor poor house into a BDM barracks still fills certain villagers with shame.

Home For Aged

Karl Schleich, 75, who was administrator of the building from 1921 until the Nazis took it over, says that several years ago village leaders wrote the Astor Foundation in New York and asked for funds to convert it into a modern home for the aged.

"The foundation replied that their donations were scheduled for the next two years and therefore couldn't schedule any new ones," Schleich says. "It was the most hopeful letter any one here has received from New York."

Betts, vice president and treasurer of the Astor Foundation, confirms that the request was received in 1955 in a letter from the village burgomeister.

Turned Down

"Unfortunately it had to be turned down," Betts says. "It was not pertinent to the purpose of the foundation, which has concentrated on specialized areas of medical research."

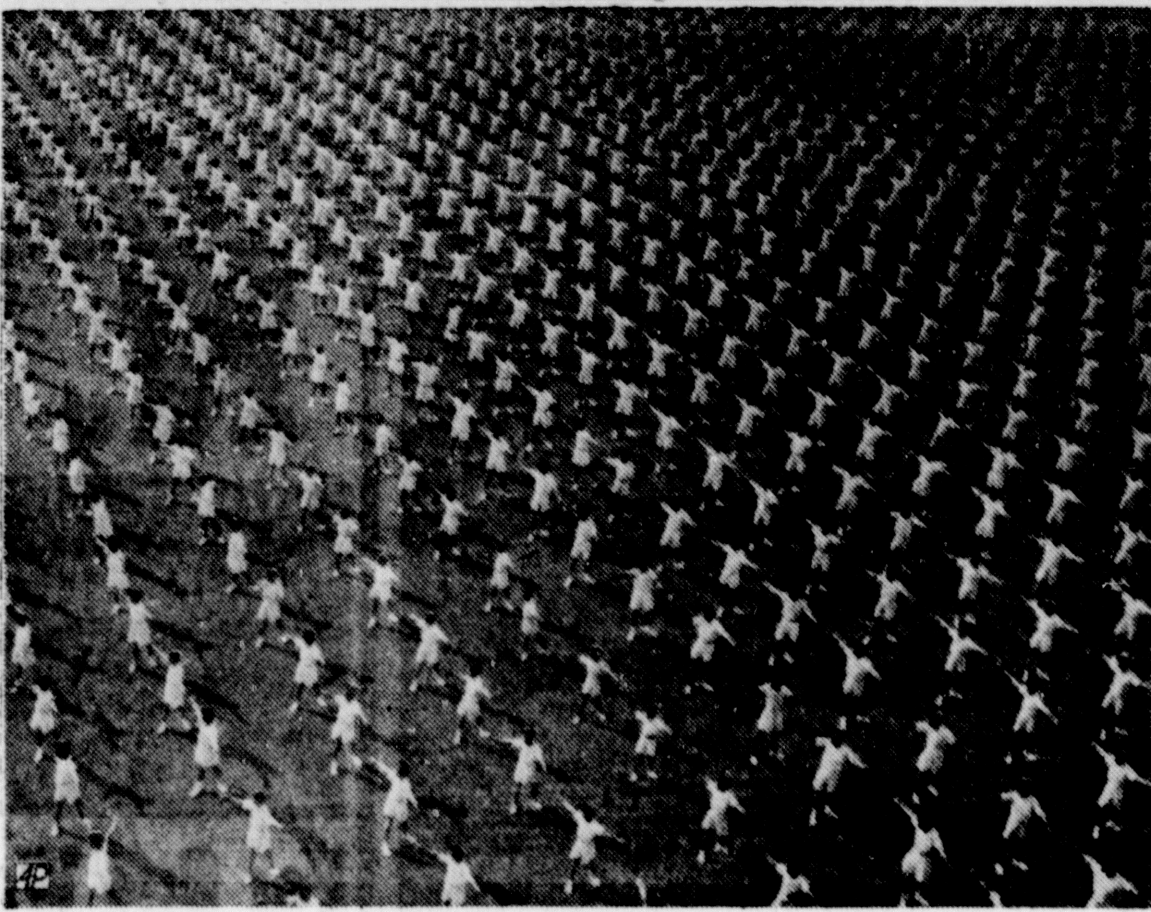

Despite the sentiment involved, Betts said, "The mere fact that an Astor three generations ago did something doesn't affect the foundation. The foundation has made no grants in that area or anything like it."

Mayor Wilhelm Willinger, 46, is concerned about another aspect of Astor history—the bust of Astor which stands on the spot once occupied by the house where Astor was born in 1763.

The bust is made of plaster and was erected in 1948 to replace the bronze one which the Nazis used in 1945 as scrap metal.

"We hope," says the mayor, "to replace the plaster bust with another one of bronze as soon as we have enough money."

Why does the village of Walldorf spell its name with two "L's" while New York's Waldorf Astoria

MASSED IN MALAYA—Hundreds of secondary school children form patterns as they participate in a mass drill in the Kuala Lumpur stadium. The occasion was the celebration of the third anniversary of Merdeka Day (Liberty Day) of the Federation of Malaya.

uses only one?

"It's very simple," says Walter Vorfelder, one of the owners of the local hotel, "when Astor left the village it had only one 'L' in its name."

And no one in Walldorf, not even the mayor, can explain why the extra "L" suddenly popped up.

David McKay Venerated As 9th Head Of Mormons

By DWIGHT L. JONES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)

—Age has put a quaver in his voice and cataract operations have darkened his eyes, but David O. McKay never has held more veneration among his flock.

Today he calls to order the 130th semiannual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Among the 8,000 gathering at the big Mormon Tabernacle for the start of a three-day spiritual renewal are many who consider President McKay one of the greatest of the nine men who have headed their church.

54 YEARS OF SERVICE

Certainly he is leading it in a period of its most vigorous growth. His service at or near its helm covers 54 years—from the horse and buggy to the jet age.

At 87 he is a remarkably handsome six-footer with a shock of wavy white hair.

The Mormons call their founder Joseph Smith, a prophet, and upon the broad shoulders of McKay has fallen the same title, "Prophet, Seer and Revelator."

TO DOUBLE FORCE

As the prophets of old, he is the leader in both spiritual and temporal affairs of 1,650,000 Mormons. In the first nine months of this year the Mormon people completed 166 church buildings which cost $23,109,000 and are working on 728 more.

At President McKay's direction (president in the Mormon Church is an ecclesiastical title) the Mormons are doubling their missionary force this year, from 6,000 to 12,000.

When President McKay turned

87 on Sept. 8 he was making plans to:

Dedicate a $2-million church in Oakland, Calif.; preside at this general conference, Oct. 7; make a radio and television speech kicking off a new series of talks directed to young people; go to London in February to dedicate a church building in Hyde Park.

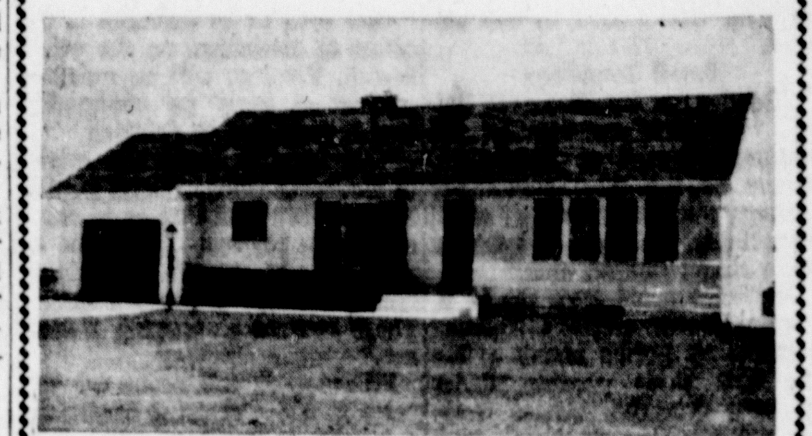

David Oman McKay was born in humble circumstances on a ranch at Huntsville, Utah, a mountain valley about 60 miles from Salt Lake City. He still owns the family home and most of the ranch, and he frequently goes there for a rest.

After a hard early life McKay started out as a teacher and became one of the Mormon Church's Council of Twelve Apostles in 1906. The church has been his life and work since.

He who dozes while he drives will rest in pieces forever.

Wives Of Alcoholics Give Report On Tragic Effects

By NORMA GAUHN

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who drinks to excess is a bum . . . If a man really loves his wife he won't drink too much . . . A wife is the mainstay of marriage . . .

Do you agree or disagree with these statements? Further, what was the attitude of your parents toward drinking? When did you first become aware that your husband had a drinking problem? What did you do about it?

Few Of Questions

These are a few of the questions being asked wives of alcoholics in research conducted with America's fourth largest public health problem—the disease of alcoholism.

Only mental illness, heart disease and cancer claim more victims than alcoholism, which has some five million sufferers in the United States.

Wives of alcoholics have come in for special attention in a number of scientific studies as victims who need help as much as their husbands for the emotional and physical toll caused by the disease.

Small Samplings

"But," says Dr. Margaret Bailey, "research associate for the National Council on Alcoholism, 'some of the most spectacular findings were based on very small samplings. We plan to cover a more comprehensive area.'"

A $79,000 grant from the U. S. Public Health Service's National Institute of Public Health makes the new study possible. Under Bailey's direction, trained workers will question 250 women from every cultural and economic level. Each interview takes from 1½ to two hours. "We're getting wives who have come to clinics for help, from family groups affiliated with Alcoholics Anonymous, from medical doctors, clergymen, psychiatrists and court referrals," Dr. Bailey says.

Popular Theory

"There's a popular theory that wives of alcoholics are themselves a distinct personality type; that a certain type of woman marries the excessive drinker."

"But I'm not convinced. I know individual wives have married inadequate men so they could be the dominant partner; there are cases where women actually enjoyed the suffering of life with an alcoholic. A study in Pittsburgh even found a small group of women who became sick when their alcoholic husbands sobered up."

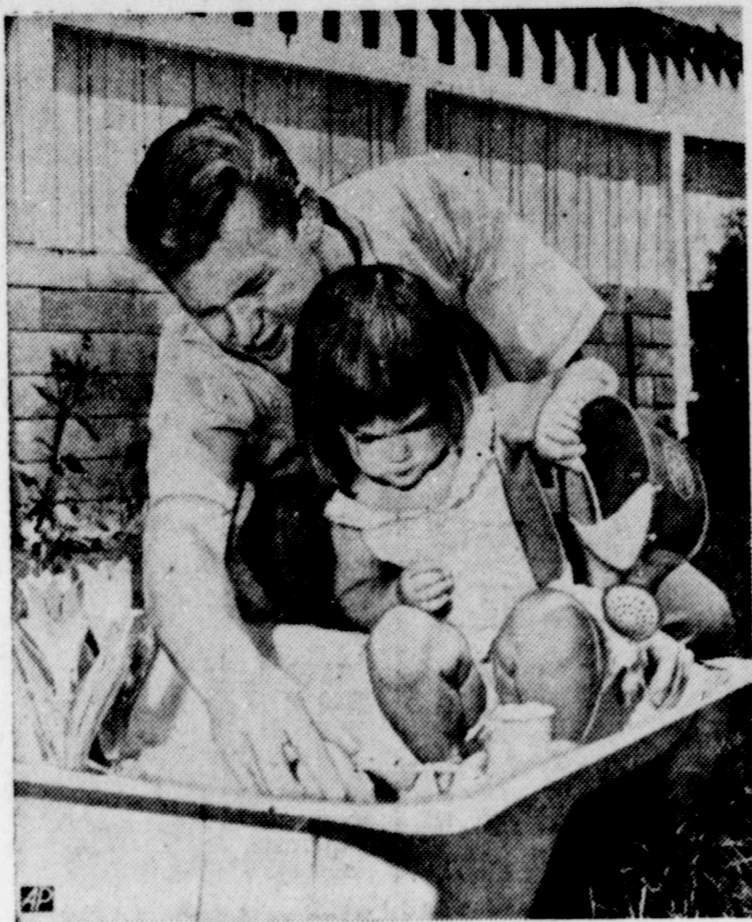

"But such studies show the need for more research. I don't feel there is enough evidence to justify singling alcoholism out as a disease that attracts a certain type of person, any more than cancer or heart disease."

Wife's Health

One area to be explored is the effect of alcoholism on the wife's health. Findings will be matched against a study on community health unrelated to drinking.

"We hope to learn how wives of alcoholics compare with women in a random sampling as to nervous and physical symptoms—shortness of breath, trembling hands, headache, stomach upsets. There may be differences, maybe not."

Interviewers will probe for the point at which drinking breaks up a family. It might be when children are drawn into shattering quarrels; or when a wife feels she

Actor Doubles As Theater Gardener

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — Actor Will Geer has a double job, one of which he does as an avocation, in the American Festival Theater here this summer.

He will play the leading roles of Justice Shallow in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and Lord Felfeu in "All's Well That Ends Well." During his spare time he acts as chief gardener at the Festival, whose grounds sprawl over several acres of Connecticut lawn.

He is producing plants mentioned in Shakespearean plays, but is having difficulty translating the bard's floral nomenclature into modern terms. "We know that gillyvors are pinks, but we can only guess that the piony banks of 'The Tempest' were banks of today's peonies," says Geer.

License Plates Go Further Than Owner

LUXEMBURG, Wis. (AP)—The license plate on Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kropp's car traveled considerably farther than they did on a recent trip to the Southwest.

The plate fell off somewhere along the way. It was mailed back recently by Harry McClelland of Spokane, Wash., who told of finding it near Carlsbad, N. M. He affixed a mailing sticker directly to the metal, addressed it to the Wisconsin Traffic Patrol and asked that it be forwarded to the owner.
